Brisk Easter Business Is Forecast Equal to '49 Trade

Knaust Is Held For Grand Jury

Mushroom Plants Manager Must Answer Count of Gun-Pointing

Warren Knaust, 25-year-old manager of Knaust Brothers mushroom plants in this area, has been ordered to await action of the Ulster county grand jury on a charge that he pointed a revolver at a striking mushroom worker.

Justice of the Peace Edward Bruck of the town of Rosendale, before whom Knaust appeared Saturday afternoon, placed the case in the hands of the grand jury. Knaust remained free on $1,000 bail.

Knaust was arrested by Sheriff George C. Smith and County Investigator Clayton Aredenburg Friday afternoon on a first degree assault charge preferred by Violet Finger of Saugerties, who alleged Knaust threatened her with a pointed revolver.

The strike of C.I.O. Textile Workers Union members at Hudson and a simultaneous walkout of a group of Rosendale area workers who are attempting to organize area workers entered its 11th day today. No violence was reported this morning in Ulster county. Deputy sheriffs continued to guard convoys of Knaust trucks and non-striking workers.

March Volume Shows Good Month; Start of Shopping Has Been Slowed

New York, March 20 (AP)—The brakes are on the traditional Easter shopping boom right now, but most businessmen still hope they can beat last year's total or come close to it.

There are two measuring sticks by which to judge Easter trade—dollar and unit volume. Most authorities agree the dollar volume is going to be about equal to a year ago, give or take a few percentage points.

But all are sure the physical volume of suits and dresses and hats and a long list of other Easter things is going to be higher than a year ago.

That's because of price reductions during the past year all along the line. One source estimates prices are down an average of three per cent for the year.

Easter falls on April 9 this year, one week earlier than last year.

The very eagerness of Easter, however, makes for a short shopping season. With the weather still cold, Easter slips up on people before they know it.

W. Ian Mack business consultant believes it is a little early to judge the temper of Easter business, but says:

"The expectation is there will be fairly brisk retail trade right up to Easter. March will exceed a year ago, or approximately it, in dollar volume. Unit sales should show an appreciable increase."

Mack believes adverse weather has been a factor so far in holding back sales in some sections.

Jump Is Expected

Another research organization of national reputation says there aren't many indications so far of Easter shopping getting underway. Apparel sales are below a year ago both on a dollar and unit basis, but the total should be above a year ago on both counts within a week or two.

"March and April together," this organization predicted, "should be above 1949 on a unit basis and slightly higher on a dollar basis." The organization did not want its name used.

The International Statistical Bureau, Inc., a business reporting service, summarizes conditions in this way:

There are two main trends. The first is the favorable showing of durable goods, like television sets. This largely results from elimination of consumer credit curbs. Part of present retail trade stability is due to expansion of consumer debt, such as mortgages, which results in spending for household furnishings.

The second trend is in soft lines, more or less the opposite of the first.

Three Nations Blamed

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Three Latin American countries were blamed last night by a five-nation committee for a heated feud which for months has shaken the Caribbean area. A fact-finding group set up by the Organization of American States charged Cuba, Colombia and the Dominican Republic with responsibility for a series of plots, conspiracies and attempted assassinations. The committee cleared Haiti—which also had been involved in the charges—and counter-charges and bluntly recommended swift action under the Rio mutual defense treaty if necessary to prevent further plotting by the other three nations.

Sees Two Die in Crash

Reading, Pa. March 20 (AP)—A student priest watched horrified as his father and another man were killed in the crash of a small plane at nearby Wernersville. The father, Charles W. Judge, 44, of Long Island City, N. Y., was just leaving to return home after visiting his son, Kenneth, a student at the Jesuit novitiate of St. Isaac Jogues. The older judge was dead when taken from the wreckage of the small, two-passenger plane. Judge's companion, Richard G. Gray, 41, of Wallston Park, N. Y., suffered burns of the entire body and died later in Reading General Hospital.

Results Not Disclosed

Nashua, N. H. March 20 (AP)—Officials of the Hillsborough County School Board refused today to disclose what went on behind closed doors at a meeting called to consider the case of Dr. Hermann S. Sander. A brief statement issued after the 70-minute meeting yesterday said "No comment will be made." Dr. Norman W. Crisp, president of the society, described the meeting as "nothing more than a discussion." "Today's meeting is finished. I cannot say what further action will be taken. Time works wonders, though, doesn't it?"

Told to Cut Staff

Warsaw, Poland March 20 (AP)—Poland's Communist government has told the U. S. Embassy here to cut its military attaché's staff in half. Under the demand, which was forwarded to Washington by 10 officers and men of the staff of the army, navy and air force, would be withdrawn.

Leaders May Declare Dewey Rent Measure Official Party Bill and Help Westchester

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—Administration leaders worked feverishly today to stave off a threatened Westchester county Republican revolt against Governor Dewey's rent control bill.

There were strong reports of a compromise. But observers agreed there wasn't much room for the administration to give way without losing political face and campaign ammunition to the Democrats.

Instead, it seemed probable the Dewey rent control bill would be declared an official party measure, with a premium on G.O.P. loyalty and discipline. A face-saving amendment for the Westchester G.O.P. might be in the works.

In view of promised solid opposition from the Democrats, the administration would need one of Westchester's three Senate votes to pass the bill in the smaller house.

One G.O.P. leader said he had "never known Westchester to run out on a party measure."

Westchester wants a "standby" state rent law, inoperative until all federal controls end. The Dewey plan calls for the state to take over the administration of rent controls May 1.

Dewey and his leaders conferred for hours on the problem last night at the executive mansion.

Lt. Gov. Joe E. Hanley said today that there was "nothing decided" at the meeting last night, and that the Republican leaders agreed to work on the problem further.

Hanley said the rent control issue probably would not reach the floor of the Legislature before Wednesday. He added that "some satisfactory type of rent bill will be passed."

The Westchester friction was the administration's most ticklish problem as the Legislature pointed toward final adjournment Wednesday.

Vocally powerful but numerically weak Democratic opposition, confronted other major administration measures still to be acted on.

They will shout loudest against the Dewey rent control bill, which they call pre-landlord. They also will turn heavy fire on Dewey's plan to create a public authority to finance and construct the $450,000,000 Thruway. The Democrats call the project an "unnecessary luxury highway." They say priority should go to school and mental hospital construction.

Destroyers Quit Port As Planned

Thousands of Students, 1,000 Workmen Go to Harbor to Protest U. S. Backing Saigon Is Quiet

Various Repercussions Noted as Followup to Rioting

Saigon, Vietnam, Indochina, March 20 (AP)—Two U. S. destroyers—the target of Communist-led riots that killed three persons and wounded at least 30 others—left here on schedule today.

Yesterday 3,000 students and 1,000 workmen, waving the gold-starred flag of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's rebels, began a march toward the harbor to protest American backing of the French-supported Vietnam government.

Rioting flared four hours and before French police dispersed the shouting mob it had burned part of the block-square central market, set the torch to 15 busses and trucks, and ripped down French and American banners raised in honor of the destroyers' visit.

The destroyers Stickell and Anderson had been sent here as a gesture of American support for the French-sponsored government of former Emperor Bao Dai. But cries of "down with American aid," "down with Bao Dai," and "long live Ho Chi Minh" were heard from the rioters.

There were repercussions today from yesterday's violence, although Saigon appeared quiet.

Students of public and private schools decided to go on strike in protest against the deaths of two of their comrades in the rioting. The third victim was a policeman.

Newspapers refused to publish in Saigon because Vietnam authorities had issued an order that they print only official statements on the rioting. The authorities hit back by suspending the newspapers for two weeks.

Police arrested a leading Vietnamese attorney and a French member of a Marxist cultural group on charges of leading yesterday's demonstration. One official said the demonstration had been foreshadowed by activity in the schools and colleges, which had been permitted to reopen two weeks ago. He said some

Thruway Work To Be Resumed

Weather Is Big Factor Facing Contractors; Are to Fix 'Change'

The construction superintendent for Lane Construction Co., was scheduled to start preparations today for resuming work on the Catskill Thruway at Saugerties.

Resumption of work, which includes building the interchange where the route meets Highway 212, is contingent upon the weather between now and the end of the month, a state engineer said.

Most of the road north of Saugerties under the present contract was completed before cold weather last fall. A section leading into the interchange and about a half mile of the road south of Route 212 is still to be finished.

The length of the next section between Saugerties and Kingston has not been determined yet. The contract may be let first only as far as Lake Katrine, but if it is possible also that the next bidding may be on the full length of the route between here and Saugerties.

Says Troops Guard Towns

Taipei, Formosa, March 20 (AP)—The China News Service said today Russian troops are guarding vital rail towns between Nanking and Shanghai in Communist Asia. There was no confirmation. The story was attributed to a traveler. It said 4,000 Soviet troops arrived in Nanking Feb. 20 and were dispatched to key rail towns.

Four Are Injured In Collision of 2 Cars at West Park

High Woods Couple Is Reported on Critical List at Vassar Hospital

Four persons were seriously injured early Saturday afternoon when two automobiles collided head-on on Route 9W one mile north of West Park.

Gustav Hoffmann, 55, and his wife, Beatrice, 53, of High Woods, are "still on the danger list" at Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie, authorities there reported this morning. Hoffmann's injuries as listed by state police of Highland included a possible fracture of the skull, a fractured left leg, broken nose, and other injuries. Troopers reported Mrs. Hoffmann also suffered a possible skull fracture, a deep laceration of the scalp and a compound fracture of her right ankle.

Also injured was John R. Murphy, 38, of 55 Staples street, Kingston, who state police said suffered concussion, lacerations and extreme shock. He was taken to the Benedictine Hospital, where authorities today listed his condition as "improving." His condition Saturday afternoon was reported as "apparently fair."

Herman Machule, 64, of Saugerties, was taken to Kingston Hospital with a deep laceration of his neck and other injuries, state police reported. Hospital authorities this morning said his condition was "good."

Troopers reported that Gustav Hoffmann was driving his car north on 9W when it collided about 12:05 p. m. with an automobile being driven in a southerly direction by John Murphy. Cause of the accident had not been determined by troopers due to the serious injuries suffered by all involved, preventing them from being questioned. Troopers said the pavement was "clear and dry" at the time.

The front ends of both vehicles were "demolished" by the impact, state police said. Mrs. Hoffmann and Machule were passengers in the automobile driven by Mr. Hoffmann, while no passengers were reported in the Murphy vehicle.

President Allays Stories Based on Vinson Visit to South

Key West, Fla., March 20 (AP)—President Truman backed up Secretary of State Acheson 100 per cent today and let it be known that any rumors he might be replaced are "completely without foundation."

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that rumors have reached the President that the visit here of Chief Justice Vinson may have some connection with a change in the office of secretary of state.

Speaking for the President, Ross said:

"Those rumors are completely without foundation. No change in the head of the State Department is contemplated. All rumors to the contrary are complete fabrications. The President has complete confidence in the secretary of state and believes he is running the department admirably."

Meanwhile, high White House sources disclosed that Mr. Truman is seriously considering allowing "limited access" to loyalty files of persons accused by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) before a Senate Foreign Relations Sub-committee.

Such access, if granted—and it seems likely—would be limited to inspection, by members of the committee, and at the White House, against persons specifically accused. It would be confined to inspections covering specific charges.

The sources asked not to be quoted by name.

A.E.C. Post Is Topic

Strong indications appeared today that President Truman is about ready to appoint a new chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Meanwhile, he set up machinery for a long-distance telephone conference with his congressional "Big Four" to check up on the outlook for passage of "fair deal" measures.

His press secretary, Charles G. Ross, said Mr. Truman planned to talk with Vice President Barkley, Speaker Rayburn, Senate Majority Leader Lucas and House Majority Leader McCormack about 10 a. m.

This was the first long-distance try-out of a conference usually held every Monday morning at the White House.

The appointment of an A.E.C. chairman may follow the arrival here of Donald Dawson, administrative assistant. Mr. Truman's contact man of appointments with the Democratic National Committee, Congress and the department.

Dawson likely will fly into Key West during the day to confer with Mr. Truman at the "Winter White House" and join the presidential vacationing party.

The A.E.C. chairmanship has been vacant since the resignation of David E. Lilienthal. Sumner Pike has been carrying on as acting chairman.

Some members of the President's party said there was evidence also that Mr. Truman may fill, before he ends his vacation, the long-vacant chairmanship of the National Security Resources Board.

Dock Workers Quit

Brussels, Belgium, March 20 (AP)—Dock and shipyard workers at Belgium's largest port, Antwerp, quit work today to back up the Socialist fight against King Leopold's proposed return to Belgium.

In Brussels, Premier Gaston Eyskens began negotiations seeking a solution to the political crisis precipitated when his coalition cabinet of Social Christian and Liberal resigned Saturday.

Admits Slaying Man

Frankfort, Ind., March 20 (AP)—A buxom young divorcee sent police to the apartment of her sweetheart yesterday and there they found his body among blood-spattered love letters on the kitchen floor. Police Lt. Glen Nichols said the woman, 29-year-old Mrs. Frankie Miller, signed a statement admitting the slaying during a jealous rage.

Will Cut Spending

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee today voted to cut a billion dollars cash from 1951 European recovery spending and substitute an equivalent amount of surplus farm commodities.

Heads Off Strike

Key West, Fla., March 20 (AP)—President Truman signed an executive order today heading off a strike scheduled for tomorrow on 12 western railroads.

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The position of the Treasury March 16: Not budget receipts, $66,322,260.18; budget expenditures $106,215,096.19; cash balance $4,797,680,450.49; customs receipts for month $22,094,258.70; budget receipts fiscal year July 1 $25,872,519.52; budget expenditures fiscal year $27,425,351,600.72; budget deficit $2,708,207,324.95; total debt $255,904,094,189.51; decrease under previous day $29,104,469.39; gold asset $24,320,473,952.84.

Chinese Block Yank Departure

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The State Department said today the Chinese Communists have blocked a mass evacuation of Americans and other foreigners from China by a last minute refusal to let two landing craft into Shanghai.

American officials on the scene have been instructed to press for reconsideration, an announcement said.

The landing craft—which were to ferry the foreigners from Shanghai to the American President liner General Gordon—have been ordered to remain at sea. The Gordon was instructed to stay at Hong Kong.

Gubitchev Leaves For Russia; Fate Uncertain as Spy

Sails on Batory for Red Homeland; Wishes Judy Coplon Luck; Scoffs at Hero's Parade

New York, March 20 (AP)—Valentin A. Gubitchev today started back for Russia and whatever fate the Kremlin may decree for a Soviet official who got caught spying.

The stubby Russian engineer-diplomat sailed at 12:12 p. m. (E.S.T.) aboard the Gdynia-America liner Batory, less than two hours after his 15-year prison sentence was suspended on condition he leave these shores "never to return."

A big contingent of federal and city policemen, along with Justice Department officials and Russian diplomats, put Gubitchev—in handcuffs—on the ship. A force of policemen stayed aboard until the Batory left New York harbor to make sure the Russian didn't get off.

The poker-faced Gubitchev broke into a smile just before he left the federal courthouse under heavy guard. He said he wished "good luck" to Judy Coplon, the ex-government girl convicted with him of plotting to spy for the Russians.

Miss Coplon was sentenced to a straight 15-year term. She is free in $40,000 bail while her appeal is being heard.

Six motorcycle policemen, sirens screaming, led the motorcade from the federal courthouse to the Hudson River pier where the Batory was ready to sail. Six guards rode with the maned Gubitchev in a closed van.

A deputy U. S. marshal told him the North Atlantic was pretty rough at this time of year.

"Gee, I'll get seasick," the Russian said.

"Try a bottle of brandy," the officer advised.

Gubitchev shook his head. "No good. I tried that once."

"I suppose they'll give you a parade when you get back to Moscow," another guard said. "You'll be a hero."

Gubitchev clutched his temple with both hands.

"Gee, no. I'd go crazy," he said. The Batory, on which Gubitchev and his attractive wife occupied a first class cabin, is the ship on which Communist underground leader Gerhart Eisler fled this country last year.

Girl Kills Her Twin Sister, Tells How Hatred Increased

Fresno, Calif., March 20 (AP)—A 14 year old girl, yielding to long smoldering hatred, calmly killed her sleeping twin sister yesterday.

Then, said Dan D. Eymann, assistant district attorney, Alice Richard "almost defiantly" told him:

"I hated her. I don't feel bad because my sister is dead, but I feel bad for my folks. This'll hurt them. I'd kill Sally again, if I had the chance."

Sally Richard was killed by a single .22 rifle slug into her brain as she lay sleeping about 3 a. m. She was one of eight sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar V. Richard. None of the family heard the shot.

Eymann said a murder charge would be filed against Alice today. The killing was an apparent case of what psychologists call sibling rivalry between offspring of the same parents, said Sheriff

Gravity Is Cited; Bad For Nation

Ambassador Denies Any Attachment to Reds in Any Way; Senator Called Irresponsible

Defends Actions

His Sponsorship Not Linked With Red Organization

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Ambassador Philip C. Jessup declared today that Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), by accusing him of "Communist affiliations," showed a "shocking disregard for the interests of our country."

With a sweeping denial of any Communist sympathies, Jessup told a Senate investigating subcommittee that it is a matter of "utmost gravity" when an American envoy is "held up before the eyes of the rest of the world as a liar and traitor."

The ambassador-at-large lashed back at McCarthy after spreading home from a survey mission to the Far East. He said that during his absence his integrity was attacked only by two sources—McCarthy and the Moscow official newspaper Izvestia.

Jessup added:

"Anyone who believes in the concept of guilt by association might draw some startling conclusions from this fact. However, I do not believe in the concept of guilt by association."

"Moreover, I do believe that anyone who, without adequate proof, levels a charge of treason or espionage against a fellow citizen is a member of the United States Senate—or at least an official of the United States government—is irresponsible."

"I have no evidence that Senator McCarthy was motivated by desire to assist the international Communist movement even though his words and actions have had this effect."

As to the charges against him, Jessup said:

"I wish to repeat categorically and without qualification that I am not a Communist and never have been a Communist."

"I am not and have never been a Communist sympathizer."

"I have never known any supported or organization which I know had as its objective the furtherance of Communist objectives."

Accused Jessup

McCarthy accused Jessup of an "unusual affinity for Communist causes" 10 days ago when the Senate foreign relations subcommittee began hearings on the Wisconsin senator's contention that the State Department is shot through with Communists and sympathizers.

McCarthy said that Jessup once sponsored a subversive organization.

Jessup said it was true a name appeared on the list of the sponsors of a dinner given May 7, 1946, by the American-Russian Institute, but that he did not remember attending. He said McCarthy picked out only a few names from the list of 100 persons who also included Dean Christian Gault of Princeton University and Radio Commentator H. V. Ralston.

Jessup said he also permitted his name to be used as a sponsor of an earlier dinner by the organization in New York Oct. 1, 1944. But he argued "there was no reason why a loyal American should not have sponsored these dinners under circumstances which then prevailed. He said the organization was on the list of subversive organizations until April 21, 1949.

"No Lots of Proof"

Jessup said from 1933 to 1946 he was "closely associated" with the Institute of Pacific Relations and was "friendly" to it.

"I submit that any sane person would have concluded from a review of the record that it does not offer the slightest bit of proof that I have an unusual affinity for Communist causes. I therefore conclude that Senator McCarthy's charges and insinuations are not only false but utterly irresponsible and under the circumstances reveal a stark

AROUND THE CORNER
It's time to speak of Spring again. For birds are on the wing again. It's time to plan for sunny days. When nature speaks a word of praise.

The winter's heavy snow again. And now it's melting down again. For soon it'll play beneath the sun. And make out plans for Summer fun.

The earth is always new again. When Spring comes an' then 'tween again. And buds appear on every tree. Dearest for Summer's jubilee.

The heart is sure to smile again. For 'tis a time to smile again. For 'tis a time to smile again. For 'tis a time to smile again.

The world should stop and play again. For Spring is on the way again. Around the corner, joy is found. It's time to laugh. 'Tis a time to laugh.

The funeral of Michael J. Tucker was held this morning at 9:30 o'clock from the late home, Hamilton street, Port Ewen, and at 10 o'clock from the Church of the Presentation where the Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Joseph Comyns, C.S.B., pastor. The church was filled with his many relatives and friends who came to pay a final tribute of respect to his memory. Seated within the chancel during the funeral was the Rev. Robert Rapch, pastor of the Holy Trinity Church, who added his prayer in behalf of the deceased. The soloist was Martin Kelly who sang "Pie Jesu" at the offertory and "Ave Maria" at the conclusion. During the bereavement, hundreds called to show their respects to one of Port Ewen's best known residents. At 8 o'clock Sunday evening the Holy Rosary was recited by the Holy Name Society called at the home and recited the Holy Rosary for the happy repose of his soul under the direction of his spiritual leader, Father Comyns. Beautiful floral pieces and scores of Mass cards attested to the esteem in which Mr. Tucker was held. Bearer were Bernard, James, Frank X. Peter and Bertha E. Tucker, and John McGowan. Burial took place in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery where the Rev. Fr. Comyns gave final absolution at the grave.

Bill Is Approved
Washington, March 20 (AP)—The House Appropriations committee today tentatively approved all parts of an omnibus money bill except the section dealing with defense funds. It deferred action on that, and on the bill as a whole, until tomorrow. Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) told newsmen "no changes" were made in funds recommended last week by a committee for other agencies. However, the final figures will not be made public by the committee until action is taken on the defense items.

SHIRTWAISTS GET DRAMATIC TREATMENT

New York (NEA)—The light, soft silhouette of the sheer shirtwaist dress takes on more interest when the fabric used is given crisp handling or printed in unusual patterned effects.

Gossamer silk chiffon, for example, is stiffened by a lining of silk organza to define the silhouette of one trend-setting dress designed to Christian Dior. This two-piece dress has a skirt that follows the straight and narrow line to point up the casual, bloused shirtwaist top with full sleeves which are tightly cuffed above the wrists. Rose chiffon printed with black squares is backed by rose organza. Narrow black piping outlines the pointed collar and front closing as well as breast pockets and the tight cuffs. Cinching in the fullness of the top is a black calfskin belt.

One of the most unusual patterns shown in chiffon is a tweedy print which pops up styling details for another afternoon shirtwaist sheer. Two layers of chiffon are used here. Beneath the floating, full-skirted dress is a gray silk slip covered with another layer of the chiffon. Raspberry chiffon printed in the same tweedy pattern is crushed into a sash. One end of the sash is left free to ripple down the skirt front. A black leather belt worn over the sash provides the sharp contrast needed to accent the misty layers of chiffon.

Durant Vault Is Looted by Thieves

Hollywood, March 20 (AP)—Safecrackers looted the vault of Dr. Will Durant, of Woodstock, N. Y., noted author, of some $225,000 in war and saving bonds during the night, police were informed today.

The noted philosopher's wife, Mrs. Ariel Durant, discovered the theft when she awoke. She said she possibly was wakened by another $25,000—also are missing, but that she could not list them immediately.

The burglary may have taken place while they were away from home for a time last night, Mrs. Durant said. She said she and her husband did not check the safe before retiring.

The vault's door had been jammed and the locks broken, police said.

Officers began immediately cataloging the bonds. They said that forgery of signatures is possible, efforts to cash them will be risky because banks and other cashing agencies will quickly be notified.

Frame House Is Burned on Sunday

Fire destroyed a two story frame home on the Sheldon Hill road about three miles from Olive Bridge Sunday afternoon.

Chief Albert Fox of the Olive Fire Department reported that the fire apparently started almost an hour before it was discovered at 11 p. m. Apparatus from Olive Bridge and Shokan was dispatched, but the house was completely destroyed before the arrival of firemen.

The house was not occupied at the time of the fire, although firemen said a New York city family had been spending week-ends there. The cause of the fire was not determined.

Owner of the house, according to an insurance policy, is Mrs. Anna Schoppman.

May Suspend Service

New York, March 20 (AP)—The Bee Line Bus Company, serving 36,000 passengers daily in Queens and Nassau counties, may be forced to suspend operations because of inability to pay a $22,000 premium on its liability insurance by March 29, a spokesman said today.

May Use Troops

Jakarta, U.S.I., March 20 (AP)—The Indonesian government today threatened to use troops and police if necessary to force acceptance of its new devalued currency. The government literally cut the Gulden—and its official value—in half yesterday.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 20 (AP)—Scattered strength pulled the stock market a little higher today.

Trading progressed at a moderately active pace but without any concentration of buying demand.

Radio-television issues gained fractions to more than a point as favorable reports on production and sales continued to come in.

Chemicals were well ahead for a time before falling back. American Telephone and Western Union added major fractions and held them. Standard Gas & Electric 84 preferred was up more than a point.

Rails as a whole were mixed, but Missouri Pacific jumped 2 1/2 points to 10 1/2 during the day as hopes were held out for a reorganization settlement giving a break to that class of securities.

Among the major groups in the market were steel, autos, motors, chemicals and building materials. Oils were mostly higher as were the gold shares and utilities. Copper Mining issues lost ground.

The curb market moved higher with several leaders actively traded. On the upside were Niles-Bement-Pond, Standard Cap & Seal, Standard Power & Light, American Republic, Brown Rubber, Cities Service, Electric Bond & Share, and Humble Oil.

The bond market was irregular with Missouri Pacific loans going lower. United States Treasury bonds were unchanged in the over the counter market.

Woman Is Praised

New York, March 20 (AP)—A woman who came out shooting when two thugs attempted to hold up her mother's grocery store, was praised by the prosecutor and the judge today when she was acquitted on a charge of illegal possession of a pistol.

Evelyn Lanier, 26, negro, shot one of the holdup men in the arm. He was an easy catch for police who identified him as Thomas Wright, 22, negro. He also was charged with illegal possession of a pistol. The other negro fled. Mrs. Lanier said police officers clearly saw her hold the pistol a few hours before the attempted holdup. Police said it was stolen from a retired policeman.

No 'Magic Instrument'

Syracuse, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—A New York city psychologist asserted today that the I.Q. test is not a "magic instrument" and would not be better off forgotten by teachers and parents.

Dr. Morris Krugman, assistant superintendent of New York city's schools, added that there had been too much reliance and emphasis on I.Q. tests. The tests are designed to determine the intelligence of a person by comparing his mental age with his chronological age.

Had Big Population

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—The University of California professors think Mexico had a big population in the time of Cortes. Their estimate is 11 million people. That compares with 13 or 14 million today. Most historians think it was under five million. The two are Dr. Lesley I. Simpson and Dr. Sherburne Cook. They think the population of Mexico was about the same as modern Michigan, Indiana or Missouri, 60 to 70 people per square mile. They worked with several historical sources to get their figures.

Italian Workers Strike

Milan, Italy, March 20 (AP)—Thousands of Communist-led workers quit work suddenly today and packed Milan's main square in a protest demonstration against the new government measures to keep order in Italy. Union leaders in both Milan and Genoa reported considering a general strike call as a further protest.

May Seek Senate Post

San Francisco, March 20 (AP)—Capt. John G. Crommelin, the laughed critic of military unification, may file for the U. S. Senate today he had received numerous telephone calls and telegrams from individuals in his home state urging him to run for Sen. Lister Hill's seat next fall.

Committees for the show follow: Arthur Chipp, general chairman; Harry Nachman, tickets; Max Geller and Samuel Divine, programs; Harold Rich, seating and finance; Henry Decker, scenery; Irving Gilman, props; Roland Riegel, auditorium arrangements. Miss Helen Cashin of Kingston will conduct a dance review of local talent.

Only One Man Hurt

Newark, N. J., March 20 (AP)—A three-alarm fire leaped from rooftop to rooftop in a crowded tenement district early today, but only one man was injured. Firemen said the smoky blaze apparently started at 110 Sherman avenue, then spread from house to house to 114 Sherman avenue, and along Wright street from 53 to 55.

A Negro man identified as Bosio Fry, 44, received second degree burns and was taken to City Hospital for treatment. All families living in the damaged tenements were evacuated without injury.

MUST STAND TRIAL—Capt.

W. D. Brown, skipper of the battleship Missouri, will be court-martialed, along with two other officers, for the grounding of the "Big Mo" in Hampton Roads last Jan. 17. Cmdr. John R. Millett, operations officer, and Lieut.-Cmdr. Frank G. Norris, Jr., navigator, also face trial. The three will be tried in three separate courts-martial at Norfolk, Va., beginning March 27.

Strike Called Off

Jersey City, N. J., March 20 (AP)—The five-cent fare increase is on and a threatened strike is off today on the beleaguered Hudson and Manhattan Railroad. The fare increase, boosting interstate fares on the line from 10 to 15 cents, went into effect at midnight last night. The same hour had been set for a strike of H. & M. attendants asking wage increases. The railroad settled the dispute by giving an eight-cent-an-hour wage increase to 15 members of Local 213 of the Utilities, Service and Maintenance Workers Union (Ind.).

Moths, Rust, Money

By FRANK TRIPP

What I am about to write is none of my business. Having admitted it, I venture on: I wonder what people, who have far more than they will ever need, are thinking of not to enjoy it themselves or, while they live, watch others enjoy it?

Must be they've paid no attention to what will happen to it when they die. The only other answer would be that they really love money, love to count it and careen it; maybe even hoard coins to jingle them as did greedy misers of song and literature.

In this little reverie 'tis not my intent to chide them—just to feel very, very sorry for them. I've heard them lamenting their plight; so, distracted because humanity, labor, education, recreation, health—even soldiers to defend their precious wealth—are so expensive and threaten to deplete their pile.

Not all of them, of course, for out of fortunes have come the common man's greatest blessings; from the Rockefeller and the Carnegies down to some little play-ground that used to be a successful neighborhood grocer's garden. Such men knew how to make their wealth do good to mankind and perpetuate their names unto generations when they would have been forgotten.

One thing is certain—that enough money is more blessed than a lot. Another that the little man with his little money gets the most joy out of what he has.

Could it be because money of itself means nothing to him? To him it is worthless, save what it will do for him and his. He never expects to count his riches in dollars. He counts them in family, home, happiness and health; in the joy he can bring his friends, the help he can give his neighbor.

His is the laughter we hear on a street. His are the children who romp in the parks. His is the wife who sits by the sick. His is the heart that knows how to give, to respond—to live. Because, though his dollars are few, they work for him before his very eyes and make him happy.

He has learned that all that he has is what he has spent. Learning that, he is wiser by far, and more blessed, than one who counts his wealth in money which has yet to be spent.

CLOSE ELECTIONS

The present plight of the British Labor government with its narrow parliamentary majority has not been equaled since William E. Gladstone's last administration in 1892. Split over Irish home rule and weakened by the defection of most of the Liberal Party leaders, Gladstone still managed at the age of eighty-three to win the election with a majority of forty in Parliament.

This was not enough. Though the House of Commons passed the home rule bill, the House of Lords threw it out. The Liberal majority was too small for a knock-down-and-drag-out fight with the Lords, therefore the measure had to be laid aside.

Gladstone retired soon afterward, leaving the premiership to Lord Rosebery, a man with no stomach for hard fighting. The Liberal majority dwindled through by-elections until on a trivial point of War Department expenditure the government was beaten in the House of Commons by nine votes. Though Lord Rosebery could have fought it out, he had had enough. His government resigned, and the Tories came in power, to stay there for ten years.

If Premier Attlee should be alarmed at this precedent, he might gain comfort from the thought that historical events rarely repeat themselves exactly. The quiet days of the 1890's offer little guidance to the world of today.

In the past 20 years the federal budget has gone from four to forty-two billion dollars a year; employees from 600,000 to 2,100,000; boards, bureaus and agencies from 640 to 1,812. The State Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, with offices in Syracuse, N. Y., seeks public support in the non-partisan effort to reorganize the government for greater efficiency and economy.

NO HOPE FOR BALDHEADS

The New York Academy of Sciences, after a two-day discussion and the reading of 36 papers on the subject, announced its official conclusion that no chemical or physical agent has any effect as to the stopping or slowing up of the "patterned" process of baldness in the human male. Nor will any preparation bring back the hair that has departed by this pattern.

Dr. James B. Hamilton of the Long Island College of Medicine, chairman of the conference, said that baldness appeared to result from man's genetic inheritance, his age, and the presence of a plentiful supply of male hormones. Most men over 30 who lose their hair do so according to a definite pattern, and must accept the condition philosophically, if those experts are to be believed.

That bottle of wonder-working hair restorer might as well be corked up and forgotten. Loss of hair may in some cases be the result of special conditions, and in those cases perhaps the doctor can help. But the man who is destined by Nature to be bald is going to be bald. The New York Academy of Sciences says so.

The fellow whose arm was tattooed "Death before dishonor" proved that truth was no more than skin deep when he was arrested for forgery and grand larceny.

NEW PASTURES

Competition is not only the life of trade. Where it exists it is a constant factor in every situation involving economics. The effects of a conservation program which has been carried on for the past ten years in Georgia may reach as far west as Nebraska, according to Charles J. Warren, lieutenant governor of the latter state.

Peaches and cotton, formerly Georgia's only cash crops, had wrung the soil dry of nourishment. Approved methods of soil and water conservation, applied by enterprising landowners, have produced thousands of acres of year-round pasturage for large herds of cattle. That this cattle business, in competition with that of the West, may lead Westerners to study new uses for their own land was the conclusion reached by Warren during his tour of Georgia.

MORE ADMINISTRATIVE LAW
President Truman's proposal that the Taft-Hartley law be revised by altering the position of its general counsel is unrelated to the Hoover proposals. In a word, the President dumps some 20 changes upon Congress and among them he squeezes in a proposition to vitiate the usefulness of the Taft-Hartley law.

The various alterations in the organization of the administration of government raise the question of administrative law, by which the Administration has been empowered in many fields to govern by edict instead of law, by commissions instead of through the courts. And whereas some of these commissions are intended to be quasi-judicial bodies, they are also administrative agencies, thus producing a situation where one government agency is administrator, investigator, prosecutor, judge and jury all at once.

The Federal Communications Commission is a case in point. It has total power over radio and television and other communications fields. The McFarland bill has been designed to correct some of the most flagrant errors in the actual operations of this commission.

In a word, the commission, which is administrative, is also judicial and documents prepared by its law department pile up into a mass of gobbledygook. A case in point is the famous Blue Book, which was designed to make radio in America, like that employed in Great Britain by the British Broadcasting Corporation, a government monopoly. Many questions arising from this confusion between administration and judicial decisions have found their way into the courts. A leading case is that of the University System of Georgia v. W. E. Carroll, et al., decided February 6, 1950. The court held in that decision that "... As an administrative body, the commission must find its powers within the compass of the authority given it by Congress. When to assert its undoubted power to regulate radio channels, Congress set up the Federal Communications Commission. It prescribed licensing as the method of regulation. ... In its action on licenses, the commission is to be guided by what we have called the 'touchstone' of public convenience, interest, or necessity. ... These cases make clear that the commission's regulatory powers center around the grant of licenses. They contain no reference to any sanctions, other than refusal or revocation of a license, that the commission may apply to enforce its decisions." In a word, the commission is limited to licensing and has no jurisdiction over private contracts, or rights and liabilities between parties.

This Supreme Court decision follows the dissenting opinion of Commissioner Robert F. Jones in the Port Huron Broadcasting Company case (WRLS), which had to do with the use of the radio by candidates for public office. Mr. Jones said: "The commission has taken over two and a half years to reach a decision in this case. WHLS has been on a temporary renewal basis two years during which time the doctrine of the majority opinion was advocated by the commission as an amendment to the act, failing adoption by the Congress, the majority now write this opinion which if unchallenged makes such amendment unnecessary. At this same time WHLS has promised to carry all political broadcasts even though the statute specifically provides none need be carried."

"I see now where great injury may result from a procedure under which a licensee is obliged to operate his station for a long period of time under a temporary license while the commission is deciding the issue in his case. The loss of his license is a death sentence to the operation of his station. During long pendency of his case he might well be willing to make any concession or promise that he thinks would satisfy any disfavor in which he might be held by the commission."

We need a Federal Communications Commission. Without it, radio and television would be an anarchy. The commission must have licensing powers or the air waves would be jammed. The problem throughout its existence is the same: To what extent does licensing mean control and what are the limitations upon the functions of the commissions? Often this is a question of personnel; often it is a question of the delegation of authority to a law or some other department.

The problem requires scrutiny and discussion, and perhaps on the McFarland bill offer such an opportunity. (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

REMOVAL OF BIRTHMARK

In the great majority of people the skin of the face is clear with no blemishes present. That is why the individual with a face blemish is always conscious of it, and may develop an inferiority complex. He avoids others and seeks seclusion in the home or the homes of friends or relatives. Fortunately, his druggist can supply him with substances that cover the blemish at special times, but naturally he wants to feel free to go anywhere anytime.

Because facial blemishes mean so much to the afflicted individual, various methods of getting rid of them are being used. The commonest form of blemish is the port wine birthmark (Nevus flammeus), and skin and beauty specialists for years have been trying to remove this mark without causing any scarring or disfigurement. Removing the mark by surgery and skin grafting is considered the "appropriate" treatment, but the facial blemish which remains a large area of pale grafted skin may be as noticeable as the port wine stain which it has replaced.

In "Surgery," Dr. H. Conway reports 28 cases treated by tattooing permanent pigments or coloring substances into the second or third layers of the skin, as the outer layer or epidermis soon wears away. Not only is tattooing used on these two lower layers of the skin but when a large piece of skin has been grafted it can also be used to make the grafted skin more closely resemble the surrounding normal skin.

"Tattooing is carried out with an electromagnetic 'gun' fitted with six needles which enter the skin at an angle of 60° so that the pigment is injected obliquely. The pigments are mostly metallic oxides such as ochre, the yellow oxide of iron, and cinnabar (vermillion). The use of an anesthetic is not usually necessary and a series of treatments is required."

As treatment by a skilled operator is absolutely essential to prevent permanent disfigurement by treatment given, the patient should consult his physician first, who will then refer him to a competent operator.

Find the Winner

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—A quiet campaign by big business to defeat the Truman administration was launched in New York the other day under the auspices of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Chairman by Carrol E. French of Standard Oil of New Jersey, a group of big business executives discussed plans for a propaganda drive through employee magazines and by putting slips into employees' pay envelopes.

Chief speaker at the closed-door meeting was Lemuel Boulware, vice president of the giant General Electric Corporation and former vice-chairman of the War Production Board. Boulware announced that General Electric was actively campaigning for the Taft-Hartley Act, against unions and, above all, against socialism.

"Roosevelt, Truman, Reuther and their ilk are the avowed enemies of American business," Boulware told his fellow executives in brief. "They consider the American businessman a thief, a cheat and a coward. The time has come for the American businessman to stand up and take a stand for what he believes in."

"Therefore, General Electric," he said, "is taking a strong stand against socialism which we regard as a more serious menace than communism."

Boulware, who is in charge of G. E.'s labor relations, also stated that no union on a national level is any good.

Business executives were also urged to give as much circulation as possible to "The Road Ahead," written by bitter Roosevelt-hater John T. Flynn.

Note—Anti-Trumanites are putting on such a strong campaign for Flynn's book that it's been required reading for many of the girls at the swank Holton Arms School in Washington.

Irrepressible McCarthy

Republicans have been getting more and more embarrassed over the antics of harum-scarum Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin. After claiming 207 pro-Communists and disloyalists were on the State Department's payroll, sending Joe hasn't named a single State Department official who was a pro-Communist and made the charge stick.

The trouble with Joe is that he rushes into situations where he doesn't have the facts, just as he rushed into his own election campaign in Wisconsin without resigning from the Court of Appeals. As a result of using the judicial bench as a campaign forum, the Board of Bar Commissioners lodged the following serious charge against him before the Supreme Court:

"It is difficult to conceive of any conduct upon the part of a presiding judge which would bring judges and courts into greater disrepute and contempt than the conduct of the defendant (McCarthy) challenged in this proceeding."

"He, as an officer of the court, knowingly and willfully, placed the gratification of his personal ambition above the interests of the public and the rights of litigants."

"The defendant, by his conduct, chose to defy the rules of ethical conduct prescribed by the constitution, the laws of the state of Wisconsin, and the members of the profession, in order to attain a selfish personal advantage. The gratification of his ambition was in defiance of the declared public policy and laws of the state of Wisconsin."

"The Wisconsin Supreme Court held that McCarthy was guilty of the above charge, but for some reason failed to disbar him. This caused the irrepressible gentleman, who now flings charges at the State Department, to smirk at the Board of Bar Commissioners as follows:

"Their actions are a disgrace to every honest, decent lawyer in the state of Wisconsin and they should resign."

A Different Republican

In direct contrast to the way Senator McCarthy is rocking the foreign-relations boat is another Republican, Governor Warren of California.

Out at the University of California, most of the faculty threatened to quit rather than sign an oath demanded of them by McCarthy-minded members of the Board of Regents. Just as McCarthy wants to dig into every organization a State Department official ever belonged to, even in his youth, and no matter how patriotic his recent record, so University of California Regents demanded that University of California faculty members sign an oath which delves back into the past.

Faculty members are willing to take the same oath of allegiance by the President of the United States or the Governor of California, and Governor Warren emphatically supported them in this. As a member of the Board of Regents, furthermore, he voted against the unfair oath demanded by other regents.

Thousands of educators all over the country are watching for the outcome of this dispute. Note—Governor Warren's fairness in matters similar to the above is one reason why he gets almost as many Democratic votes as Republicans.

Col. McCormick Abroad
Good will for America got a jolt recently at a stormy press conference in Bombay, India, a key spot in the cold war.

Fifty Indian correspondents gathered around Col. Robert McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, and were astounded to hear his blithe announcement that all he knew about Kashmir was that it was the home of fine rugs. A reporter asked him a question on the hottest subject in that part of the world, the flaming dispute between India and Pakistan.

Colonel McCormick replied he had not even heard of the dispute until 24 hours before he landed in India. This caused an Indian correspondent to ask sarcastically: "Isn't this type of general ignorance responsible for the American lack of prestige in the Far East?"

Congressmen Seeking Re-election Are Holding Real 'Hot Potato' in Education Bill

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 20—The hottest potato at this session of Congress hasn't a thing to do with the vegetable kingdom but is related to what may happen at the polls of those members of Congress who vote either "aye" or "nay" on the federal aid-to-education bill—if they are given a chance to vote at all.

For no matter whether a member feels that the federal government should aid the states or whether he thinks educational appropriations should be left solely to the states, his motives are bound to be misconstrued by the opposing candidate, if not by his constituents. Republicans and Democrats are to be found on all sides of the question.

The issue, moreover, has many sides. A member of Congress who doesn't want any federal aid extended is reading accusations of being in league with those religious groups which don't want money appropriated by the federal government unless it goes to all schools, including parochial schools.

A member who wants to have federal aid applied only to public school children is likely to find himself accused of being opposed to religious schools and to the relief of the burdens of those parents who pay taxes to support public schools and also pay separately to defray the cost of religious schools.

For a long time the issue didn't arise because it was considered radical to put the federal government into the field of education. It was supposed to be the traditional province of the states. But now, with the federal government extracting so much money from the states and giving back taxpayers' money in unequal amounts to projects in the states—even as the sources of taxation are also drained by the federal government, leaving fewer and fewer states to utilize a demand being raised that the states be aided.

There is one school of thought which wants to provide aid to education only in needy states—so-called backward areas where there aren't enough tax revenues to give the requisite education. This approach is attacked also as the pressure for federal money is exerted to include various kinds of aid for all states.

Thus the federal government already has helped to provide school lunches everywhere and it does this in all types of schools, religious institutions included. Also the policies of the states themselves differ in permitting use of public funds to subsidize high textbooks, transportation and health services in parochial and private schools.

The Senate at the last session sidestepped the ticklish question by voting to provide federal money and letting the states disburse it as they do their state school funds. This ran into trouble in the House. Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Roosevelt got into a controversy last year, the echoes of which are still heard here in Congress. In fact the controversy served to underline the political risks involved in the legislation, and that's why it's not improbable that nothing at all will be done about it at this session.

Some day the issue will have to be debated more comprehensively and without so much religious prejudice. Some day Americans will be interested in seeing that there is more attention paid to the public schools, and perhaps aid to parochial schools will be shown tolerance than they do today on the Catholic parents who have, in effect, paid a double assessment to make sure their children have some kind of religious education instead of none which is too often the case with public school children. But these are subjects that are wrapped up in deep-seated prejudice and emotions, and their will have to be a sympathetic understanding on all sides before a solution can be worked out.

It is probably just as well that the national legislature has taken for when the debate becomes heated, a rather complete and comprehensive program of education of America's school children runs the constructive result. (Reproduction rights reserved.)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

A propaganda has blown up suddenly to ridicule Americans who have concluded that (a) the Roosevelt-Truman reign put the United States at Russia's mercy and (b) the present regime is preparing to proclaim a "total" economy, meaning a dictatorship, for a war to redeem that ghastly betrayal. Those responsible for this propaganda are working in unison, though without sympathy. It would be a mistake to say that a Washington pundit with his own record of error to vindicate in sympathy with Communists just because he agrees with them that Americans are suffering from cold-war jitters. The Truman government and the guilty relic of the gruesome haunt of Hyde Park also have their own motive to play down the danger and deride as "jitters" the logical conclusion derived from proclaimed facts and plans.

Truman admits that he was unprepared for the presidency when he accepted the nomination. He was the political Muscovite, Sidney Hillman, and when he suddenly found himself president "without having been briefed on the processes or current problems of government or knowing whom to ask for counsel and facts." True, he said he did not mean to convey a sense of inadequacy when Roosevelt died suddenly. But, equally true, he did convey a sense of inadequacy that day when he took the oath of office and he wanted to exploit the pathos of his personal situation. He was wheedling for sympathy. Justice would have been too tough to take. When he had exhausted public sympathy he took to snarling at Congress to divert attention from the drunken orgies at Yalta in which he preposterously signed away the victory and the tentative of the world's future to Soviet Russia. He wanted to divert attention from his own awful stupidity at Potsdam.

It was for his own miserable prestige as a party boss that he persecuted the men who had ripped the walls out of the State Department disclosing not only

What are these recent revelations of intent?

May, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the director of the draft, still in office and still commanding a nation with a million bullets would add to the tomorrow's devastation of men and women into a living hell as he would with a woman that would as well as men be drafted to the country is attacked. That's precisely what the Empire and the Republic of the Court reveal. Their exhortations to this effect have seldom been reviewed except in the headlines but the recent revelations of intent follow the recommendations of these two sinister prophets.

Questions - Answers

Q—How much weight will each 50-gallon oil drum of a swimming float support if it is half submerged?

A—The weight supported by a floating object is equal to the weight of the water that it displaces. If the 50-gallon drum is half submerged, it will displace 25 gallons of water, which weigh about 208 pounds, if fresh. Therefore the drum will support this much, including its own weight.

In ocean water, the half-submerged drum would support about three pounds more.

Q—How many women cabinet members has the United States had?

Q—Where did the vanilla bean originally come from?

A—It was discovered in Central America. Sixteenth Century Spanish explorers introduced it into Europe.

Q—Are any of the Mount Vernon trees George Washington planted still standing?

A—Sixteen of the trees that beautify Mount Vernon grounds were planted by George Washington.

that Devey, in calling two weeks ago for the state to take over rent controls, was much too critical of "gross inequality" in the federal and New York city regulations to permit him to yield even in part to Westchester's demand for a standby state rent law.

That would mean a delay in the state's taking over until federal controls expire, possibly June 30—unless they are renewed for another year by Congress.

Or it might mean, in another compromise possibility, a delay that would end if New York city's local rent laws were killed again in court. A decision is pending in the Court of Appeals. It could come next month.

The administration's Stephens-Scanlon bill would have the state take over residential rent control from Washington and New York city on May 1.

It would freeze rents until March 1, 1951, at the March 1, 1950 level. Increases would be permitted after next Dec. 1 to landlords losing money and on the basis of comparability—rent allowed for similar facilities.

Westchester's nine-member legislative block backs a bill to continue for one year, until June 30, 1951, the state's five-year-old standby rent law. By its terms, the state takes over rent control only after all federal controls cease.

The Westchester delegation conferred for several hours Saturday with the G.O.P. county chairman, Livingston Platt.

In a statement released later, they said continuance of rent con-

rol was "still essential and we are for it."

But, they added, the state should not enter the field as long as federal control continues because of "the uncertainty and confusion ... as well as the burden of expense."

They called either for enactment of their bill to extend the standby law or an amendment to make the Stephens-Scanlon measure a standby act, inoperative as long as federal regulations existed.

Senator Philip W. Williamson of Scarsdale, dean of the Westchester delegation, told newsmen: "There is support for the Westchester stand." He did not elaborate.

Neither Williamson nor Platt would comment when asked if Westchester's six assemblymen and three senators would vote for the administration bill if their amendment was rejected.

Some party sources were encouraged by the Westchester bloc's indication it would accept the Stephens-Scanlon bill on a standby basis. They interpreted this to mean the downstaters had no serious objections to administrative provisions in the bill and that their objection was merely one of timing as to when the state should take over rent controls.

Originally, the Westchester group was reported as wanting the administration bill amended to provide absolute decontrol power for localities, by vote of their governing bodies, and a "fair net return" rent increase formula. These points were not mentioned in the statement Saturday.

The Devey measure would permit localities to "request" decontrol but final decision would rest with the state administrator.

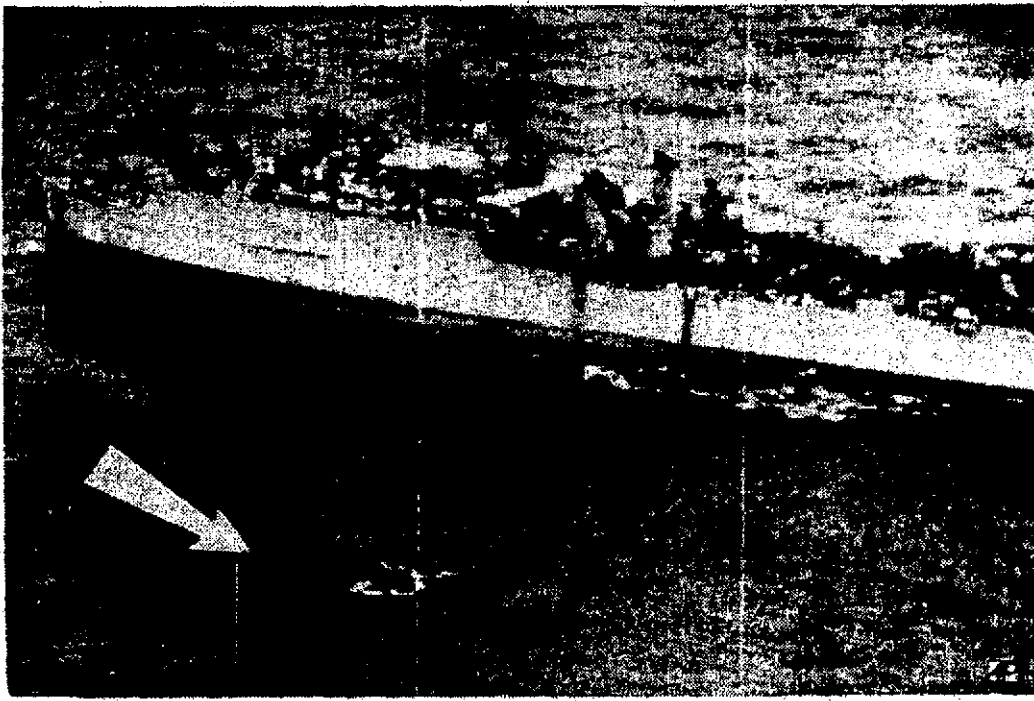

There was speculation that if Westchester had reduced its objection to solely a question of the time when the state should take over some of the delegation might be persuaded to go along with the administration bill.

One argument might be that a standby law would not protect New York city tenants if the local Sharkey laws were invalidated by the Court of Appeals. New York city Republicans feel such a situation would leave the party and the administration in an extremely vulnerable position if it developed.

FAMOUS SPORTSCASTER

BILL STERN

HIS BLOW BY BLOW, play by play coverage of the big-time sporting classics from coast to coast has a following that runs into the millions. Broadcasting from the major bowls, ball parks, and ring-sides, Bill Stern's voice gets a real workout the year round.

"I'M ON THE AIR HOURS AT A STRETCH

— naturally I have to think of my throat. The 30-day test proved to me how mild Camels are!"

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT ON 30-DAY TEST OF CAMEL SMOKERS...

Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

MAKE A NOTE...REMEMBER YOUR THROAT!

INSURANCE SALES. MAN Vincent R. Jordan: "I contact a lot of prospects. My voice is important to my livelihood. That's why Camel is my cigarette. Camels agree with my throat—and they taste great!"

SALESWOMAN Elaine Lombardi: "Talking to customers all day isn't exactly easy on my throat. That's why I made the 30-Day Test. It convinced me Camels are the cigarette that agrees with my throat!"

AIRLINE DISPATCHER Edward Herman: "In my job, I have to think of my throat, so I smoke a mild cigarette—Camel. They're just right for my throat—and the finest-tasting cigarette I ever smoked!"

HERE'S THE TEST. Smoke Camels for 30 days. Compare them in your "T-Zone" (Throat, T for test). See if you don't agree that Camels are the mildest, best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked.

Why do thousands GO OUT OF THEIR WAY to save here?

Odd thing about saving. There are four other good savings institutions in Kingston and four commercial banks. Yet, week after week, thousands of people come downtown—out of their way, in many cases—to save here at Home-Seekers'. Why?

Well, for one thing, people like the security of saving here. We've served Kingston for 61 years now; been through five depressions; never stopped paying dividends. For another, people enjoy dealing with a fine old institution such as ours... with its old-fashioned insistence on standards of service and courtesy.

Why not join the thousands who find saving here a satisfying experience? You can start with $1 or more; save or withdraw any time you like; receive dividends twice yearly. Your account will be most cordially welcomed.

HUGGER-MUGGER IN THE AUTOMAT

As a burglar, I've been doing a considerable amount of hanging around police stations lately, and I've made a highly edifying discovery—the average New York detective is plenty smart and, considering how few of them there are, gets plenty of results.

To give you an idea of what the ordinary cop can do once he gets going, let me tell you the classic story of Detective Patty MacVeigh and how he solved the case usually referred to as "Hugger-Mugger in the Automat."

One morning in August, 1933, two people died suddenly and within a few minutes of each other in the nickel-in-the-slot restaurant at Broadway and 104th street. One a dowdy old dame named Lillian Rosenfeld, keeled over in the restaurant's mezzanine, and the other, middle-aged garageman named Larry Jellinek, was found outside the little boys' room in the basement. The coroner certified that both deaths were caused by a powerful dose of cyanide of potassium.

Was it a case of double murder? Was it a double suicide? Or was it murder and suicide?

Detective Patty MacVeigh was handed this sizzling spud, and went about cooling it off not like a Sherlock Holmes but like an ordinary policeman. He started by questioning everyone in the neighborhood where the victims had lived; inch-by-inch, the moment flats they had called their homes; jig-sawed together a lot of biographical bits and pieces, and came up with a solution so simple no one connected with the case could imagine why it hadn't been thought of right away.

Jellinek's past was reconstructed easily enough. Starting as a helper in a garage, he had managed to save enough to buy his own busness, and his garage had prospered until the depression hit it. When things got tough, he borrowed $150 from a bank, and when he couldn't meet the note on July 1, he was threatened with foreclosure.

Figuring he had nothing to live for, he purchased $3 worth of powdered cyanide and then, with his last nickel, bought himself a poppyseed roll at the Automat. He dug a hole in it, poured the powder in, bit off as much as he could chew and headed for the men's room. At the foot of the stairs he collapsed and died.

So far, so clear. Next, MacVeigh went to work on Lillian Rosenfeld. She had been a harmless old bat who scavenged around junk heaps, and for 28 years had lived in a 57-a-month basement room which was filled with everything from old piano rolls to a rusty weather vane.

From employees of the automat, the detective learned that on several occasions the old dame had parked herself in the mezzanine where she could watch the tables on the main floor, and when someone left without finishing a meal, she would hurry down and eat the remains or scoop them into a paper bag.

That finished the case. Obviously the scavenger had seen Jellinek leave part of his roll and had popped the half-eaten bun into her mouth.

MacVeigh's investigation uncovered an additional irony. While shifting through the hodge-podge in Lillian's room, he found six bankbooks which showed she had $45,000 stashed in various banks in Manhattan and New Jersey. The annual interest on her nest egg was $1,200 or eight times the amount Jellinek needed to save his garage and life.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

INITIATION into the Ku Klux Klan, complete with hooded, white-robed figures, fiery cross and American flag, makes this striking scene, taken near Atlanta in the early Twenties. The fearsome, night-riding Klan was born in the South following the Civil War, first as a social organization, then as a terroristic force devoted to "white supremacy." It was reborn in 1915 under a fiery cross on Stone Mountain, near Atlanta, as a body of "100 per cent Americans, white and Protestant, aimed at purifying the social and political life of this country." Nurtured on hate, the Klan grew to power in national politics, even elected governors. From a claimed membership of 8,000,000 members in 1928, it has alternately withered and bloomed, but never died.

Six People Make a Town

Dellview, N. C. (AP)—Dellview is as free from municipal problems as any town you'll find. There are no slums. The budget is balanced. Dellview has a population of six. There are two houses. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dellinger and their daughter, Gladys, live in one house. In the other live Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dellinger and their son Robert. Mrs. J. H. Dellinger is mayor, and her sister-in-law is treasurer. A. T. Dellinger is chief of police. (The town this year will celebrate its 25th anniversary. The legislature in 1925 incorporated Dellview. The main reason for its incorporation was to give police powers to residents who wanted authority to deal with stray dogs which were molesting chickens. The Dellingers say that their town is the smallest incorporated municipality in the United States.)

of everybody and Hopkins was frank enough to say that civilian displaced persons deported from their home areas to centers of industrial endeavor would be billeted in decent homes without discrimination.

Acheson, formerly of the "pro-Russian" group in the State Department and the patron three of Alger Hiss, proclaims a "total diplomacy," a term of Harvard glee, with no valid meaning to intelligent citizens. This mutineer idol had as much guilt as any other second-string culprit in the vile conspiracy which now makes it necessary for him to ask for "total diplomacy," and Hershey to soften us up for the total draft.

Again, Brian McMahon demands the resumption of wartime rationing and controls, meaning, in brief, abandonment of the constitution. And even this act of civic assassination would be a preliminary exercise preparatory for the war. War with what nation? Not Costa Rica, surely. He must be thinking of Russia the gaunt ally whom Roosevelt muscled up from a doltish clod to a rampaging conqueror.

Of course, this would require mass movement of labor again, the renewed demoralization of family and social life and a load of expense sufficient to collapse the capitalistic system in its last stronghold.

But these are the portents and though innocent millions wish to God they were laughable fears, they aren't. This is what the engineers of the doom would call the "pulling up" for total disaster.

COATS and SUITS

For LADIES with a FLARE for FASHION

Whether it is in the assortments "On Sale" or the new models just arriving, the woman with a flare for fashion finds just the garment in design and color that enhances her looks to best advantage.

But she doesn't do this without a good bit of looking around.

She examines and compares and finally buys when and where she finds what she wants at the price which appeals.

Ladies with a flare for fashion revel in the selected assortments now in display in the stores.

Fire Destroys Hall at Hudson

Hudson, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—St. Mary's Hall, a 105-year-old brick structure owned by St. Mary's Catholic Church, was destroyed by fire early today.

The Rev. John A. McCarthy, pastor, estimated the loss at $25,000.

All six of Hudson's fire companies fought the blaze, with the aid of two companies from the town of Greenport. They controlled it within an hour.

A city policeman suffered a possible fracture of the right leg when he was hit by a fire truck. Officials said the patrolman, Matthew J. Colwell, was off duty. He was taken to Columbia County Memorial Hospital.

The one-story building on Third street, in downtown Hudson, formerly was St. Mary's Church. It had been used as a recreation hall since the construction of a new church some years ago.

The fire was discovered about

1:40 a. m. No one was in the building. Church officials said a social gathering was held there yesterday, but the hall was closed about 8 p. m.

Father McCarthy reported that the equipment lost included 250 new chairs, valued at $7 each. They were still in crates, he said.

Two Are Found Dead

New York, March 20 (AP)—A 35-year-old woman and her three-year-old son were found dead in an apartment early today, and police listed her death as suicide. The little boy was in his mother's arms. Mrs. Stella Sheritt and her son, Robert, Jr., were found on the kitchen floor by her husband at 2 a. m. Four jets were open on the kitchen range in the 17th floor apartment at 2 Sutton place, south, police said.

Pastor Resigns

REV. KENNETH PEARSALL

The Rev. Kenneth Pearsall, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, corner of Elmendorf street and Wiltwyck avenue for the past four years, resigned from his local congregation Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Pearsall came to Kingston in 1946 from Kearny, N. J. During the past three years under his direction the church has sponsored the weekly radio program, "Showers of Blessing."

Beginning the first of May, the Rev. Mr. Pearsall will take over the position of executive field secretary at Eastern Nazarene College in Wollaston, Mass. Not only is it the pastor's alma mater, but it is one of the eight colleges owned and operated by the Church of the Nazarene.

For the past two years, the Rev. Mr. Pearsall has been a member of the district advisory board, vice president of the Nazarene Young People's Society for the New York area and district chairman of church schools.

W.C.T.U. Executive Meeting March 24

Friday, March 24, officers and directors of the Ulster County W.C.T.U. are going to the home of Mrs. Myron Shults of Modena to hold an executive meeting. The county president will conduct a morning and an afternoon session, the noon hour being provided for by the bringing of box lunches, as is the usual W.C.T.U. arrangement. The corresponding secretary, in sending notices, calls this meeting a pre-institute executive because plans for the institute in Plattekill in May will form a major part of the business. County President Shults is hoping that this Modena meeting will be as well attended as the New Paltz post-convention executive at Mrs. Tighu's on November 9, 1949. Absentees were scarce at that gathering.

Tests Can Prolong Life

Philadelphia (AP)—Individual preventive medicine can prolong life, Dr. William Harvey Perkins says. Dr. Perkins is directing a "positive health maintenance clinic" which has been operated by Jefferson Medical College since September, 1948. The new philosophy of health examinations, developed by Dr. Perkins, stresses detailed information on a patient's habits, occupation, family history, heredity, environment, emotional stresses and disturbances and similar factors prior to a complete physical examination. The examination is designed to enable the doctor to know those who come to see him as human beings and not merely as patients, and to keep them in good health as well as cure them if necessary. One of the difficulties, the doctor says, "is to get people to change their habits even after the probable consequences of failure to do so has been brought to their attention."

Siberian Husky Destroyed After Funeral Is Held

South Portland, Me., March 20 (AP)—Patches, the Siberian husky whose fangs killed a five-year-old boy, also is dead.

The year-old pup was destroyed last night, three days after the death of little Donald A. Boucher.

Owner Emile J. Morin's decision to have the dog killed—it was up to him as Patches was chained on his property when the child was attacked—was made while Donald was being buried yesterday.

A veterinarian injected a killing drug at "Shangri La," an animal hospital in Auburn.

Donald's mother, Mrs. Stanley Boucher, said she was greatly relieved due to the fact that it (the dog) won't have a chance to do the same thing to someone else.

Her husband said the news "makes me feel as though there is some justice."

County Attorney Daniel C. McDonald, reported a medical examiner told him Patches had chewed one side of the boy's head to the bone.

Morin said he came to his decision because his wife's health has been effected by the tragedy and because the Bouchers are close neighbors.

Swallows Arrive

San Juan Capistrano, Calif., March 20 (AP)—The swallows came back to Mission San Juan Capistrano traditionally on time yesterday.

How Important Is This Man's "YES"?

G. CARPENTER

He's the man whose "yes" helped to put an ambitious boy through medical school.

Another occasion, his friendly "yes" started a man in business and today that man's business is a growing, paying proposition.

And then there was the time his "yes" enabled a worried family to get from under a stack of unpaid bills and his friendly advice put that family's budget on a sound, secure basis.

This man whose "yes" has brought peace of mind to thousands of people by helping them get a fresh start is the manager of the Personal Finance Co. office in this city.

His job is to make personal loans, and to keep the transactions on a business-like basis. His years of experience with Personal have taught him to respect the honesty of local people—friends, relatives, or employer are not brought into the picture.

Don't borrow unnecessarily. But if a loan—for a month or a year, or longer—is the sensible thing for you (and yours the judge) the YES MAN will appreciate the chance to say "yes."

You can telephone him . . . or drop in to see him at the Personal Finance Company office. He says "yes" to 4 out of 5.

Even the COLORS sing of Spring!

Too bad a newspaper has to be printed in black and white.

For here we can show you only half the picture you can make this spring, this summer and for a long time to come.

True, you can see the lines of this tidy 1950 SUPER Convertible.

You can, perhaps, imagine the top-of-the-world feeling you'd know with the wind combing your hair, a great valve-in-head straight-eight filling your ears with its song, these spinning wheels cradling each mile of your going in soft, coil-spring comfort.

What we can't show you here are the bright, gay colors we have made ready just for you and just for this year.

We can't show you how they dress you up, clothe you in the very spirit of the season, add their own special plus to that unmatched I-drive-a-Buick feeling.

Best we can say is they won't cost you one cent extra.

They are part and parcel of this gorgeous Buick package, like the Fireballing power of our new F-263 engine—the level going of all-coil springing—the steady roadability of Buick's solid structure—the handy controls for top, windows and front seat, the satiny smoothness of Dynaflo Drive.*

Why not come see the whole package for yourself? Your Buick dealer can get right down to cases—prices, trade-in, terms and all.

See him—and this year you'll want to meet spring in the gay Buick manner.

*Standard on all Roadmaster models, optional equipment at extra cost on Specials and Super.

Only Buick has Dynaflo and with it goes

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with bumper-guard grille, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with body by Fisher.

WINDFALLS OUTNUMBERED
THE HARD BLOWS?

If your experience is similar to others, you'll agree that the number of times you've had unexpected money literally drop in your lap (such as this rebate on your GI insurance premiums) is far outnumbered by the unexpected demands on your bankroll!

With that in mind, we of the Kingston Savings Bank sincerely urge each of you veterans to save all of your GI check.... or at least, as much as is possible. If you desire to spend the check, don't do it in a hurry.... think it over a few days.... make sure that your purchase is wise, that you'll need whatever you're buying far more than you'll possibly need the extra cash later.

We don't believe in saving for savings sake. Money is only good to spend.... but spending wisely and spending to be spending are far apart. Make sure that your use of your GI premium return check is wise, prudent, in your best interest.

If you decide to save your check, bank it here at the Kingston Savings Bank. You will find our service courteous and always willing with any financial information you desire.

Hayes' Daughter Dies in Lewiston

Lewiston, Me., March 20 (AP)—President Rutherford B. Hayes' last surviving child—his only daughter—is dead at 82.

Mrs. Frances (Fanny) Hayes died last night at the Marcotte home here.

Her father was an Ohio congressman when she was born Sept. 2, 1867. She spent her early childhood in the Ohio governor's mansion—her father was governor three terms—and went with him to the White House when he was elected President in 1877.

Mrs. Hayes' mother died in 1889, her father four years later.

Her marriage to Ensign Harry E. Smith in 1897 ended in divorce shortly after the first World War.

Mrs. Hayes' son, Dalton, who also dropped the name of Smith, died in Florida last January.

His widow, Mrs. Corinne Hayes of Fopano Beach, Fla., and Bryant Fond, was with her mother-in-law when she died.

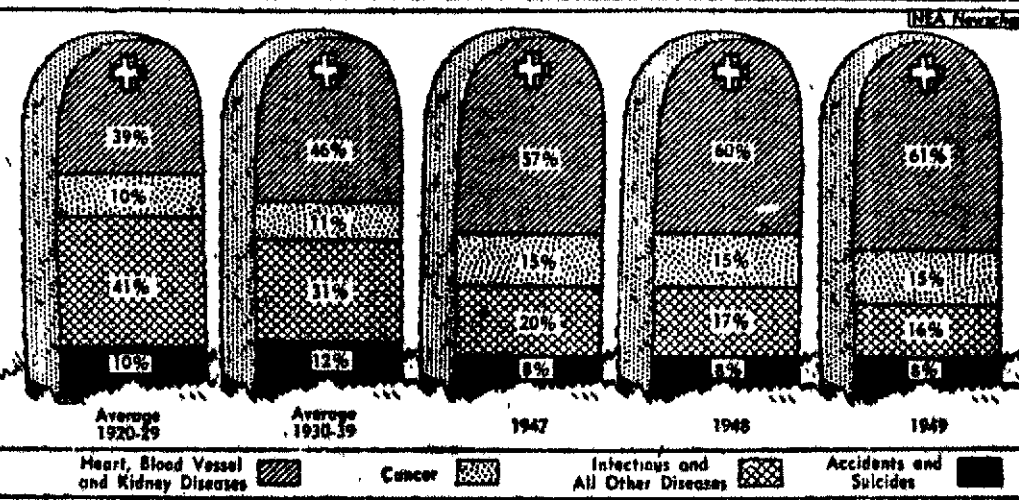

Funeral services will be Friday at the Hayes homestead, Spiegel Grove, in Fremont, O. Burial will be in the family plot in Oakwood Cemetery there.

Three Men Are Killed

New York, March 20 (AP)—Three men were killed early today when an automobile in which they were riding got out of control on the Henry Hudson Parkway at 239th street in the Bronx, struck a wooden light pole and then smashed into the stone abutment of an overpass. The driver of the vehicle was identified by police as Larry J. Canton, 32 years old, of Yonkers. A passenger killed in the crash was listed as August Dopoli, also 32, Yonkers. Police sought to identify a third victim, who was described as six feet tall and weighing 200 pounds. The bodies of the three men were taken to Fordham Hospital morgue. The accident occurred at 3:25 a. m.

CAUSES OF DEATH—The Newchart above shows how diseases of the heart, blood and kidneys have grown as major causes of death—from 39% in the Twenties to 61% in 1949—while deaths from infectious and other diseases have declined. The development of "miracle drugs" to curb infectious diseases, and the fact that people live longer now, accounts for the rise of diseases associated with old age.

Mrs. Lester Mackey, secretary in the J. R. Mellus office, has been ill at her home.

Mrs. Jesse Alexander is spending Friday until Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Erdell Lawson, Cortland.

Miss Edna Curry resumed her work as teacher of grade Thursday after being kept home this week by illness.

Mrs. Oscar Dedore is visiting her niece, Mrs. Howard Baker. Mrs. Dedore is convalescing from an operation.

The Misses Dorothy Haight and Ruth Forsberg, Poughkeepsie, were Thursday dinner guests of Miss Eliza Ivey Symond. Later they all attended the review of the play by Mrs. Elizabeth Hill Conrad, "The Happy Time," in the Presbyterian Church, Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thompson will leave Sunday for two weeks vacation in Florida.

Mrs. Luther Perkins will return this week-end from a hospital in New York where she underwent a glandular operation the first of the week.

Miss Eliza Raymond had as dinner guests Wednesday Mrs. G. Hallow Mackey, Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail, Mrs. D. H. Starr, Mrs. J. William Feister and Mrs. Franklin Welker.

The Lenten service Tuesday evening will be in Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

An executive meeting of officers and directors of the Ulster County W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Myron Shultz, Modena.

The spring institute will be held in Modena in May and plans will be made then. Mrs. E. H. Faust, president of the local union, is arranging transportation for the officers who reside here to attend the executive meeting.

Light Opera is the subject of the program for the Music Study Club to be presented at the review of Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Myron Hazen. Miss Edna Curry is program chairman.

Frank LaFalle, president of the Lions Club appeared before the Town Board at its recent meeting. He had a petition from the Lions Club asking that Reservoir 5 be used as a recreation center.

With him was A. T. Hunter, of the Health and Physical Education department, who had spent the afternoon at the property, and he advised three ways of making use of the area: for use of the Central school only; for students of all the residents of the district and town; for the use of anyone.

Mr. Hunter stressed the second plan. He said the Board of Education was best able and had the authority to administer the project. Since the taxpayers in the town might be called upon to assist the development it was deemed best to call a joint meeting for an expression of their views. A recreation director, and probably an assistant and life guard might be needed. The State Youth Commission would help somewhat in financing the work, together with local organizations.

Since Leonard Rizzo has begun the erection of a garage on the Milton road near Patrick's Diner, he asked permission to remove the curbing and change the contour of the sidewalk at that point. This was granted if he use concrete and not macadam. Michael Nardone had instituted proceedings relative to assessments against his various properties. Thomas Shay was present as assessor.

season, and mentioned the holdings and gave amounts of assessments which Mr. Nardone wants reduced. To this end the Town Board will have to have an appraisal made and a referee appointed. Allen Decker, commissioner of highways asked that approval be given to the plans for repair work and permanent improvements. For the latter there is Washington avenue, Bellevue road, Lily Lake road and Clearwater road. He was given permission for the work. Members voted to transfer $5,000 from the general fund to the interest bearing Town Improvement fund. It was made known that there was a buyer for the former Landreth property on lower Main street, now owned by the town. This was referred to the recreation committee. Supervisor Gaffney stated that $1,168.44 had been paid out for welfare in February. As a closing item of business the question of the town truck used by Frank Marx, water superintendent and at night kept in his garage, was decided in favor of Mr. Marx, rather than kept in the Town Barn. In case of calls at night truck and tools were at once ready for use. Mr. Marx assured the board he did not use the truck for personal use.

W.C.T.U. Describes Work of Missions To Cure Alcoholics

Miss Clara Saulpaugh told the Kingston Women's Christian Temperance Union that "alcoholism is one of the major, if not the major, economic-social crime and health problem."

Reporting on "Rescue Missions and the Alcoholic," Miss Saulpaugh spoke at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Fred Smith, 338 South Wall street.

She described the work of the 200 rescue missions in the International Union of Rescue Missions, an organization dedicated to work with alcoholics, and compared alcoholism as a disease with other sicknesses.

"It is the most deadly of all diseases, for it destroys, as Jesus said, 'both soul and body in hell,' she declared. Alcoholism is a disease which is curable for all who wish to escape its malignancy. There is no incurable case in the sight of God."

This is the theory upon which the rescue missions of America have operated for 77 years, since the establishment of the famous Jerry McAuley Water Street Mission in New York in 1872 by a converted "alcoholic of the worst degree," she said.

The second oldest mission in America, the famous Pacific Garret Mission of Chicago, where Billy Sunday was converted, has produced a sound color motion picture portraying the actual history of an alcoholic which is attracting nationwide attention, having been televised on a number of stations and shown to hundreds of thousands of people, concluded Miss Saulpaugh.

Mrs. William J. Whiston's topic related to the Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., advertising "Picture of a Business You Ought to Know More About."

She said Life (January 30), Collier's (February 11), and Look (February 28) magazines would receive $65,000 from the two-page advertisement in the above heading, in their respective issues, signed by Licensed Beverage Industries.

Mrs. Whiston said, "The men who make up the L.B.I. know full well that once they have unleashed the spirit of dissipation, anarchy and demoralization inherent in the fraud of alcoholic camouflage neither they nor 160,000,000 fellow citizens can curb the blight it breeds nor the personal and social damage that follows in its wake."

More Than 700 Attend Concert At St. James'

A crowd estimated at "between 700 and 800 persons"—filling St. James Methodist Church—enthusiastically applauded the Boston Choral Arts Society Friday night after a program representative of the highest type of choral music.

The Boston chorus, an a cappella choir, is considered the outstanding university group of its type in the nation.

Among the most stirring featured presentations were "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson, which concluded the program, and "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?"—a spiritual sung in accompaniment to a reading of the story of the crucifixion.

A chorus from Protestant church choirs led the audience in a 20-minute old-fashioned "hymn sing" and before the concert there was an organ recital by Donald Romme of the First Dutch Church.

"The place was packed," said C. Franklin Pierce, minister of music of St. James Church. "It was a wonderful success."

Christus Larios, Sarasota Girl, Are Engaged

The engagement of Christus Larios, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Larios of 318 Washington avenue, to Evelyn McRoyan of Sarasota, Fla., has been announced.

Christus Larios, a member of the family of the Larios family, is a graduate of the University of Florida at Gainesville, Fla., where he was president of his sorority, Alpha Omicron Pi, and a member of the executive committee of the Panhellenic Council. She was a candidate for "Homecoming Queen" and served as chairman for the University's May Day festivities last year. At present she is employed by the state beverage department.

Mr. Larios attended schools in Kingston and was graduated from Valley Forge Military Academy, Wayne, Pa., and Cornell University where he was vice president of the honorary society Sphinx Head. A member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, he was secretary of the senior class and student council at Cornell.

Also at Cornell, he served as chairman of the Spirit and Traditions Committee, as member of the board of athletics, as Cornell's representative to the Model UNO, and was a member of the National Society Scabbard and Blade. He is a junior member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and is employed as a testing engineer for Airway's Engineering Corporation at the Philadelphia International Airport.

The wedding date has been set for April 20, in Sarasota. They will live in Drexel Hill, Pa.

200 Students From Hudson Area Sing in New Paltz

High school students from Poughkeepsie, Ellenville, Amenia, Wallkill, Kerhonkson, New Paltz and Cornwall-on-Hudson were among the approximately 200 Hudson Valley students who spent Friday and Saturday at State Teachers College, New Paltz, singing in a Choral Clinic which culminated in a public concert Saturday.

The choral group, conducted by Ralph Hunter, assistant conductor of the Robert Shaw Chorale and instructor in the Juillard School of Music, was accompanied by a 25-piece chamber orchestra in their presentation of the Bach Cantata "Sleepers, Awake."

The boys and girls had received their parts earlier, but for the first time had not been rehearsed before Friday. The smooth performance the following day of difficult work was a tribute to their willingness and Mr. Hunter's to keep at rehearsal for nearly 12 hours.

Alice Smiley was the violin soloist in the cantata and Robert Conant played the harpsichord.

Verna Jean Franz Is Engaged To Graduate Student

Mr. and Mrs. August B. Franz of New Windsor, formerly of Kingston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Verna Jean Franz, of Albany, to Edgar J. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Stevens of Greenwich.

The prospective bride attended Kingston schools before her family moved to Newburgh, and later to New Windsor. She was graduated from the Newburgh Free Academy and Mildred Elley Secretarial School in Albany. She is employed by the American Oil Company in Albany.

Mr. Stevens was graduated from Greenwich High School and received his Bachelor of Science degree at Union College, Schenectady, last June. He is doing graduate work at Albany State Teachers College, and has a record of three years' service in the Navy.

They plan to be married April 8 in Trinity Methodist Church, Albany.

Levine-Friesner Wedding Celebrated

New York, March 20 (Special)—Miss Charlotte Friesner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Friesner of Ellenville, was married Sunday to Marvin Levine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Levine of Elmhurst, L. I. The ceremony was held at the Park Terrace by Cantor Benjamin Siegel.

A reception followed.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Abraham Futernick, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Roslyn Cohen, Bernice Trachtenberg, Ellen Levine, Dorothy Kaufman and Esta Eckstein.

The bridal gown was of white satin with sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls. The bride carried a Bible with white orchids.

Meyer Jarcho served as best man and there were five ushers.

Miss Friesner attended Ellenville High School and Brooklyn College. Mr. Levine is an alumnus of New York University and is an accountant.

HUSBAND WON'T CHANGE

A "spoiled" husband is the subject of the following letter:

"What can I do when we have company and my husband won't conform to the way I'd like to serve the meal? I'd like coffee in the living room, not to sit at the table, endlessly in the stiff chairs. He wants coffee not only with dessert and after, but all through the meal. If he has it then I have to offer it to the guests. And it doesn't seem to go with the 'company service.' One time I got him to agree to having it in the living room but he made such a fuss when handed a small cup that I had to get him a breakfast cup. And I was embarrassed. Should I simply always follow his way even when we have company or would you say it might be best to set him apart, so to speak, and serve him differently from everyone else?"

Unless you serve "dinners of ceremony" which are almost unknown today excepting on semi-public occasions, if I were you, I would do what my husband likes. I think that you will have to offer big cups to everyone else as well as to him and merely tell people if they seem to pay attention, that he is unhappy without a big cup of coffee. After all it is a very well-known American custom and there is nothing strange or eccentric about it.

When to Transfer Rings
Dear Mrs. Post: When does a widow transfer her engagement ring and wedding ring to the right hand? I've been told that this is your suggestion for those who wish to indicate that they are married but without husbands.

Answer: She does not do this at all unless she would like to receive the attentions of other men.

Wearing a Fraternity Pin
Dear Mrs. Post: May a fraternity pin, which belongs to a man I expect some day to marry, be worn on any kind of clothes? Whether I wear slacks or day clothes, sports clothes or evening dress?

Answer: Unless unbecoming to what you happen to be wearing, there is no reason why you should not wear it at any time.

When does a wife properly refer to her husband as "Mr. Brown"? Does an invitation if declined cancel an obligation? Mrs. Post's leaflet E-18, "An Etiquette Test," answers 35 common etiquette questions. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Minasian's to Mark 22nd Anniversary

Minasian's Market will mark its 22nd anniversary this Thursday, Friday and Saturday with a special sale, give-aways, demonstrations and other events.

The market, now a full-scale supermarket in modern quarters at 86 North Front street, was begun in 1928 by Lauren Minasian. The early store, located at 47 North Front street, handled only fruits and vegetables.

Moving to 43 North Front street, the store gradually expanded. Lauren was joined by his two younger brothers, Peter and Edward, as they graduated from high school. Peter Minasian later joined the Kingston police force, then established his own package store on Main street, leaving Lauren and Edward as partners in the grocery business.

Two years ago, the Minasians took title to the former Winne property at 86 North Front street and erected a modern building along the supermarket lines. Today the store handles numerous articles, including meat and fish, well known brand names in canned goods, as well as fruits and vegetables. A full line of food for diabetics has recently been added.

Although the firm has in its 22 years catered to two generations of shoppers, the Minasian brothers are still considered among Kingston's younger businessmen. Each began work in the store upon reaching the age of 18, and have kept the store in continuous operation since.

Carol Mattison, William H. Warren, Marry in New York

Miss Carol Mattison, a student at New Paltz State Teachers College, and William H. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel I. Warren of the Guilford Road, New Paltz, were married at the Little Church Around the Corner in New York city last Tuesday.

Dr. Randolph Ray officiated. Miss Doris Warren, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and Daniel I. Warren, Jr., was best man for his brother. A reception was held after the ceremony at the Hotel New Yorker for members of the immediate families.

After a wedding trip through the south, Mr. and Mrs. Warren will live on the Guilford Road, where the groom operates a farm. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mattison of Hicksville.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Lodge, formerly of Kingston, have become the parents of a son, Michael Alan. The Lodges, who now live in Bath, have another son, Martin, Jr.

Robert Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Gill, 437 Delaware avenue, is a member of the newly-organized Dean's Student Advisory board of 21 Rider College (Trenton, N. J.) students. The board was formed to bring about exchange of ideas and closer cooperation between faculty and students.

Thomas Gunning, Eddyville, was a representative of the student body at LaCrosse State Teachers College, LaCrosse, Wis., at a meeting at Blois College of the Midwest Conference of Student Government Associations. Gunning, a freshman in the physical education course, is also a candidate for secretary of the Campus Controls Council, which will hold elections March 28.

James C. Embree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander W. Embree, 542 Albany avenue, has returned to his home for the spring recess from Vermont Academy, Saxtons River, Vt.

A daughter, Deborah Sue, was born March 6 to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Green of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. Green is the former Freida Kaplowitz of Kingston.

Child Is Discovered Suffering Burns; Parents Are Held

New York, March 20 (AP)—A five-year-old girl—suffering from burns and alleged neglect—was given a 50-50 chance to live today while her parents were held for mental observation.

The little victim, Joan Reitzel, of Queens was on the critical list at St. John's Hospital in Long Island City.

Police said severe burns on the child's chest and abdomen and minor burns on her legs were untreated for weeks until detectives had been taken to the hospital Saturday.

Officers said Joan had been left to suffer in filth while her three brothers apparently were well cared for.

The parents, David and Katherine Reitzel, were arraigned yesterday in Queens felony court on charges of neglect.

Magistrate Paul Balsam sent them to Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn for mental tests.

Police went to the Reitzels home after neighbors reported hearing a child screaming in the night.

Joan's 36-year-old mother told the judge yesterday that the child burned herself several weeks ago while playing with matches. The 36-year-old father told the judge "I took my wife's word for it that the child was getting better."

Detective Anthony Ragonati reported in court that he found Joan lying on a filthy bed in a squalid bedroom. He said the other four rooms in the apartment were neat and well-furnished, and there was a television set in the living room.

The other three children, apparently in good physical condition, were taken to a children's shelter when the parents were locked up. They are Edward, 11; James, 9; and Joseph, 7.

Held for Grand Jury

Joseph Francis Slicker, 22, of Port Ewen was arrested Friday afternoon by Police Chief A. W. Richter of Saugerties and Jailer Arthur Brown of the sheriff's office on a charge that he had a revolver without a permit. Arraigned before acting Police Justice Louis Francello of Saugerties on the charge, which is covered under Section 987, sub-division 5 of the Penal Law, Slicker waived examination and was released on bail for action of the Ulster county grand jury.

Mail Is Damaged

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—Several stacks of mail en route from New York city to Troy were damaged last night by fire in a mail car, standing on New York Central tracks at Union station. The flames also damaged an empty baggage-mail car on an adjoining track. Cause of the fire was not determined. There was no estimate of the loss or the amount of mail damaged.

Count Your Tricks To Insure Success

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service
Only experience will make a good card player. However, a person may become a good player more quickly learning to use the gadgets employed by the experts such as end plays, safety plays, squeeze plays, coups, and so on. Of course, the first lesson you must learn is to count your tricks. Then, if you have a basic knowledge of the different expert plays, you can quickly become a fine card player.

This week I am going to give you a series of safety plays. In other words, we will count our tricks, and then see if we can play the hand safely to make the contract.

What should the declarer do at trick one in today's hand? Should he play the five-spot from dummy?

♠ A J 5	♥ K 8 5 4 2	♦ J 8 4	♣ J 5
♠ 10 9 8 6	♥ 3	♦ K 6	♣ A Q 8 4
♠ 3	♥ A 3	♦ A Q 8 4	♣ 2

and let the ten of spades ride around to his queen? If he does, he will not make the contract, because East will win and shift to a club.

The correct procedure here is a safety play. Declarer should go up with dummy's ace of spades. Now he leads the jack of diamonds and takes the finesse. West will win with the king and lead another spade, which East will win with the king.

But now, when he shifts to a club, it is too late because declarer has the club suit stopped. He can count two spade tricks, two hearts and five diamond tricks, enough for his contract, and in addition, he will take a club trick, if West does not cash his ace and queen.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER
Horse races in Kingston are described in the Kingston Weekly Freeman and Journal of Thursday, October 6th, 1887. "There was a large attendance at the Kingston Driving Park Wednesday afternoon to witness the first day's races of the fall meeting. The track was in excellent condition for fast time, it having been harrowed and brushed during the morning. The horses were in fine fettle, and the contests were close and exciting. There were spores of vehicles inside the enclosure. The refreshment stands on the grounds did a rushing business, after each heat. The judges in the stand were A. C. Norris, Oscar Addis, and Robert Decatur. George Kraft acted as both clerk and time-keeper."

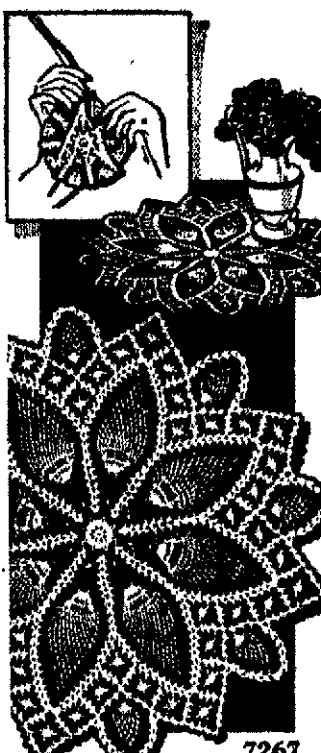

Perhaps they say that folks live longer today provided they are not struck down by modern inventions such as autos, aeroplanes, fancy heating systems and many other conveniences. But in 1887, a small item is given over to the oldest woman in Ulster county, Miss Sinchy Minderhart, who died at the age of 108 at New Paltz. She retained full possession of her physical and mental faculties until within a week before her demise. Of course they did have horse incidents, where teams ran away, or folks got hurt by being kicked by a horse. In all the old newspapers of the 1880's there is always a column given over to such incidents. For instance: "A canal-er residing in Rondout was kicked by one of his team of mules, receiving a face injury. Dr. Best dressed the injury, a fracture of the upper jaw, and the injured man went home to wait nature's repairs." So said the item.

From column, "Heard on the Streets" in the 1887 paper: "Thomas Kennedy, one of the most painstaking conductors on the Ulster and Delaware Railroad, was presented with a solid silver lantern by his many railroad friends on Tuesday evening. Express Messenger W. F. Brodick made the presentation speech."

Here is another item in part: "The busiest men in Kingston are gas plumbers. Electric light, as a novelty took with some people for a time, but they have found that gas is superior for buildings etc."

"A teacher in one of this city's public schools wrote to the 1887 Freeman to the effect that too many young children in Rondout and Kingston are allowed to be up late nights. Children should be allowed to have rational enjoyment, but not allowed to stay up until 11 o'clock at night and nearly 12 o'clock before they are in bed. This makes them nervous and irritable

Congresswoman Is In Fight to Save Shanks Village

Shanks Village, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—A Republican Congresswoman has promised to aid veterans in their fight against eviction from temporary housing here.

Rep. Katharine St. George, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., told a veterans meeting yesterday she would introduce legislation to prevent immediate evictions, and to keep Shanks Village as a permanent veterans housing project.

The meeting was called to protest the impending eviction of 40 families by April 1 and about 100 more by July 1. A number of families already have eviction notices.

Some 500 persons attending the session also protested the threatened razing of quarters which are to be given up by veteran students who have completed their studies.

The community consists of former army barracks converted in 1946 into homes for 1,440 families.

The homes have been occupied by 1,110 families of G. I. students attending college in New York and by 330 families of Rockland county non-student veterans.

Quarters given up by veteran students must be razed in accordance with contracts between the public housing administration and sponsoring bodies such as Columbia University and other New York colleges.

Utah became a state in 1896, the 45th to be admitted to the Union.

30 Books Are Returned

"Forgiveness Week" at the Kingston City Library last week resulted in the return of approximately 30 overdue books. It was reported by a member of the board of trustees. One of the returned books had been borrowed in 1943 and was missing from the shelves ever since. Another book, a textbook, that was returned was a valuable out-of-print item worth about $7. All fines on overdue books returned last week were canceled.

Newburgh and Mont Pleasant Reach Intersectional Cage Finals

NFA Tops Amsterdam; Ferraro Grabs High Average Lead With 747 Series

Raiders Beat Maroon

Mont Pleasant High and Newburgh Free Academy, the basketball powerhouses of their respective conferences, are the finalists in the 1950 intersectional basketball tournament, a development that will come as a surprise to practically nobody.

Both followed the same pattern in flattening Kingston and Amsterdam in Saturday night semi-final contests.

Mont Pleasant, undefeated since the Maroon stopped them in 1948, overcame a 4-11 deficit to defeat Kingston, 71 to 53.

Newburgh stumbled against an inspired Amsterdam quintet in the first period and rallied from a 30-15 deficit to trounce Amsterdam, 66 to 33.

Meet Next Friday

The two finalists clash for the intersectional title at Saratoga Springs next Friday night. Kingston and Amsterdam meet in the consolation preliminary.

Kingston played without the services of Coach G. Warren Kins who was bedded with a bad cold. Bill Hurley, Jayvee mentor, handled the Maroon.

Ronnie Scheffel emerged as the high scorer of the Saratoga contest with 20 points, but Sig Mikolaj's charges had too much experience and size for Kingston.

Maroon Opens Fast

For a few fleeting moments Kingston's rosters envisioned a scorching upset. Lundgren and Trowbridge hit with quick baskets to put Mont Pleasant ahead, 4-0.

The Maroon suddenly caught on fire and reeled off 11 straight points to go ahead 11-4 and set Convention Hall rocking with cheers. Mont Pleasant accounted for five points and Scheffel four in the drive. Lundgren's basket stemmed the Maroon tide and by the end of the period, Mont Pleasant was in command, 15-14. At the half they were in front, 33-23.

Both clubs finished with a spurt, the Raiders knocking off 24 points in the stretch.

Scheffel, a substitute guard, led the winners with 16 points. Four others hit in double figures, Lundgren getting 13 and Sig Mike Trowbridge an even dozen.

Moll Leonard was runnerup for Kingston with 16 points.

N. F. A. Rafters

Newburgh rolled up 28 points in a blistering second period offensive to overcome a 15-point deficit against the Amsterdam eagles.

Hitting on a phenomenal percentage in the first quarter the upstart led 21-9, after forcing Coach George S. "Lanky" Masterman to call time twice and yank two regulars, Quimby and Chrystal from the game.

Once the Goldenback steamroller began to hit, the Amsterdam club folded as impressively as it had flourished in the early moments. N. F. A. was in front 37-35 at the half and they dominated the play after the break.

Luck Tyler emerged as the N. F. A. scoring leader with 18 points hitting with nine fields. Bernie Speer, N. F. A.'s first substitute, scored 13 points and yank Quimby overcame a bad start to finish with 15 points.

Staglin, a put shot artist who opened at guard for Amsterdam, hit for 16 points. Mikolaj and Marshall shared 21 for the visitors.

Baldwin, L.I. Keglers Dominate Early Tournament Shooting

Nassau School Paces Teams With 2640

An 886-average powerhouse from Baldwin, Long Island, the Nassau County Bowling School, furnished the Class A leader in the team event, all-events and singles division of the state bowling tournament Saturday night at the Bowlatorium.

Led by Joan Streck, a top-ranking Metropolitan star, the sharp-hooking Long Island pinbusters rapped the maples for 2640 on games of 873, 855 and 582.

The score was good enough to have won 13 of the last 16 state tournaments.

Overflow crowds watched the team firing on Saturday and Sunday nights, with the Baldwin girls attracting a large gallery for their minor events shooting Sunday afternoon.

Streck posted 577 with 213-174 and 190 in the team event. Eleanor Christiansen shot 531 leadoff; "Skip" Oliver, a 95-pounder who captivated the crowd, had 515 and Annie Bush rolled 214-540.

579 Leads Singles

Tony Gillespie, sixth member of the Nassau County Bowling School squad rolled into the Class A singles lead with 579 on games of 140-163-208. Joan Streck's 1588 led the Class A all-around.

Layton's of Ithaca rolled into second place in Class A with 2248, followed by Trojan Business of Troy with 2143.

Class B team leaders are the Mt. Vernon Gems with 2385. Betty Trojan posted 536 and Ann Gillespie 507 for the Westchester aggregation. Mechanicville Women were second with 2268.

The Trojan Women's Bowling No. 3 are in the top spot in Class C with 2203. Ithaca Bowling Center hold down the second slot with 2201.

Rainbow Room of Rome, N. Y., rolled 1921 to take over first place in the Booster group.

Barker's Furniture of Morrisville in the Class C team leader with 1996.

The Guasti Wines of Forest Hills, featuring Audrey Erickson, hit their stride and totaled 1981. Mary McAnaw was high for the squad with 487. Miss Erickson shot 422 after a 114 opener.

Runnersup to Tiny Gillespie in the Class A singles were Anne Bush, a teammate, with 219-163-140-568; Alma McNeil, Scotia, 229-568; Marge Jordan, Troy, 202-521; Marcela Block, Rochester, 528; Skip Oliver 202-542; Mary Levermann 215-541; Dorothy Hughes, Rochester 211-545; Eleanor Christiansen 550; and Joan Streck 202-555.

Katherine Schaeffer of Albany moved into first place in the B singles with 184-160-168-512.

Mildred Huber of Rome shot 136-212-179-527 to take over in Class C singles. A Kingston girl, Elizabeth Schoonmaker, was in second place with 514.

Class A doubles leaders are Sophia Brand and Betty Seeley of Ithaca with 1012.

Pearl Fritze and Mildred Harding of Oneida posted 973 to pace the Class C doubles, while the Class B tandem leaders are Monica Prusinowski and Connie Natask of Salamanca with 1010.

Sickler's Hookshot Wins Overtime Game

Jim Sickler's hookshot in overtime enabled the Stone Ridge Royals to shade the Aglys, 34-32, on the Stone Ridge court. Sickler led both clubs with 12 points.

Ward and Vince Van Bramer had 11 points apiece for the losers.

The score:

Stone Ridge (84)—Sickler 12, Johnson 15, Stella 12, Spangin 7, Osterhout 1, Kozian 1, Feinreich 1, Lawrence 1.

Aglys (80)—Ward 11, Van Bramer 11, Roos 6, Feldman 6, Flamm 6.

Kingston Star Edges Nick Leoce In Final Match

Boosts Mark to 200.46 In Sensational Finish

Hasting a tremendous 747 series on the Middletown area, Johnny Ferraro, Adirondack Trailway anchor, has retained his high average leadership in the Adirondack Valley Bowling League after losing out Newburgh's Nick Leoce in the most sensational finish in the league's history.

Ferraro, trailing Leoce by as much as ten points a month ago, boosted his final average to 200.46 by pounding out scores of 217, 244 and 256.

Leoce finished his season in Kingston against Miron Lumber and shot 554, with 187-183-184 on alloys 5 and 6 at the Bowlodrome to finish with an unofficial 200.21.

Leoce started his last day of bowling with a 201 plus average, with Ferraro three points behind.

The closing rush by Ferraro wound up a month of spectacular comebacks for the "old pro." He averaged in the neighborhood of 230 for the last dozen games and knocked out a trio of 70's including the seasonal record of 759.

Ferraro's spectacular pinning enabled the Trailways to rack up a 2382 triple and two wins over the Frank's Tavern of Middletown. They shot games of 977, 1035-1030, Harold Broskie had 202-204, 264 and Larry Neaghampt 203-568. High on the Middletown was Skip Congdon with 233-208-630.

Miron Lumber wound up a season in a blaze of strikes, rolling the maples for 3015, with 1033-1057-965 over C's a Loner already had nailed down their first pennant. Last year's champion, J. J. J. in the anchor slot with 245-226-631. Angelo Ferraro accounted for 280-227-633; and Charlie Manfro 236-601.

"Taz" Spada hit 230-593 and John MacLellan 219.

At C'scent 201-539 paced V's. Lou Criscent posted 228, and Pat Tania 202.

Glasco No. 1 Beats Hurley No. 1, 34-28 For First District Basketball Crown

Misasi and Tate Star for Winners

Led by Sal Misasi, who scored 17 points, Glasco No. 1 school defeated Hurley No. 1, 34-28, for the grade school basketball championship of the First Supervisory District in a playoff held last week at the Glasco school gym.

Glasco No. 1 had captured the Northern Division title with five wins and one defeat. Hurley No. 1 won its divisional title after defeating Hurley No. 2, 44 to 20, in the playoff. They finished in a tie with 5 and 1 in the regular season.

Misasi pumped in six fields and five singletons as Glasco came from behind a 10-5 first period deficit to tie the score 19-19 at the half and then win with a fourth period spurt.

The contest was actually decided from the foul line where Glasco held a 10-4 edge. Both clubs had a dozen baskets.

A Tate was runnerup for Glasco with 12 points, a total matched by P. Ellsworth of Hurley.

Glasco clung to a two-point lead with only 45 seconds remaining but a rash of Hurley fouls boosted the final margin.

Winners Get Trophies

Superintendent Clarence Johnson of the First Supervisory District presented members of the winning team with individual trophies. The Hurley squad received a wall plaque for the school.

George Kithcart of Glasco led the Northern Division scoring race with 63 points. Sal Misasi, the Glasco sharpshooter, was runnerup with 53 points in four games.

Joe Pilz of Hurley led the Southern Division with 63 points. The top five scorers in each division follow:

Training Camp News in Brief

Miami, Fla., March 20 (AP)—The New York Yankees are taking no chances with Joe DiMaggio, their $100,000-a-year piece of bric a brac.

The Yankee clipper sat out his second straight game yesterday as the Boston Red Sox won their second of three exhibition games with the New Yorkers, 10-7.

DiMaggio picked up a charity horse against the Dodgers Friday. Rather than aggravate it, he didn't see any regular action although he took part in the warmup.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 20 (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher is eyeing the veteran Nap Reyes for possible infield utility duty with the New York Giants.

The bustling Cuban, who once understood Bill Terry at first base, is showing the kind of hustle Leo likes. Jack Harshman is in line for the regular first base post but Reyes is looking handy around the bag. He played third yesterday in the exhibition game won by the St. Louis Browns, 10-8.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Mal Malette, the Brooklyn Dodgers' big rookie southpaw from the west coast, will undergo an X-ray examination of his ailing shoulder tomorrow at Vero Beach.

Malette, picked up in the draft after striking out twice from Hollywood Manager Fred Haney, complained of a sore shoulder yesterday. Manager Burt Shotton ordered it to be looked into immediately.

The Dodgers played the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, losing 8-2.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Howard Pollet, who was long time in coming to contract terms with the St. Louis Cardinals, made his first start in a game yesterday against Cincinnati at Tampa, Fla. He was touched for the only Cincinnati run.

The Cards won 4-2.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 20 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns made four errors against the New York Giants yesterday, but they also hit four home runs to win a 10-inning game, 10-8.

Sherman Lollar greeted Giant pitcher Kirby Higbe with a homer in the tenth. The other home runs were by Dick Kotter, Chuck Grant and Kenny Wood.

Field Completed For Upstate Tourney

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—The eight-team roster for the National Catholic Intercollegiate Basketball tournament was complete today.

Providence College was the eighth team to accept a bid to the tourney scheduled for March 28, 29, 30 and April 1. Siena College of nearby Loudonville is the host.

Providence, coached by Jim Cuddy, has a record of 14 victories and eight losses.

Jim Schlimm, six-foot, four-inch sophomore, is top scorer for the Rhode Islanders. He averaged 15.8 points per game during the season.

Other tournament entries are St. Michaels of Burlington, Vt.; St. Francis of Brooklyn; Loras of Dubuque, Iowa; Iona of New Rochelle, N. Y.; St. Francis of Loretto, Pa.; and Creighton University of Omaha.

Jack Burke's 207 Leads Jacksonville Open Golf

Jacksonville, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Jack Burke, still unspoiled by fame, got out front in the Jacksonville Golf Open on two straight rounds of 67—five under par.

Though he's only 27 years old, Burke is proving on the winter tour he is a great campaigner and he will be hard to beat out for the top $2,000 in today's final round.

Burke has 207 after 54 holes, coming back from a shaky opening 73 on the 6,508-yard Hyde Park course.

Burke may have the most trouble holding off two hotshots of the game, national open champion Cary Middlecoff and P.G.A. champ Sam Snead. They reached 210 each after Middlecoff shot 67 and Snead 68 yesterday.

Al Besselink, 25-year-old Detroit pro, hung right in there with 208 on his third round 71. Ed Furgol of Royal Oak, Mich., came into the scene with 67 for 209.

Normal Output Resumes

Metuchen, N. J., March 20 (AP)—Normal production was resumed today at the big Lincoln-Mercury plant here as a wildcat walkout came to an end. A company official said all workers had returned to their posts and that the disputed matters would be taken up now "through normal contractual provisions."

A spokesman for Local 680, United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.), said a committee of the union and of management would confer on issues that led to the walkout last Wednesday. Forty freight handlers on the night shift walked off their jobs charging a speedup of the work they were required to do and "wholesale firings" of the men.

END OF THE LINE

Bob Usher (right), Cincinnati outfielder, slides toward home plate only to find way blocked by St. Louis Cardinals catcher Joe Garagiola (center), who is holding the ball in third inning of their game at Tampa, Fla. Usher raced for home on Peanut Lowrey's roller to third base but Tommy Glaviano's throw was in plenty of time. Umpire Scotty Robb is about to signal that Usher is out. Cards won, 4-2. Star Skater Quits Her Native Land

London, March 20 (AP)—Star skater Aja Vranova says she's 18 years old, has a mind of her own and has made up that mind not to go back to her native Czechoslovakia.

Aja retained her world figure skating championship in competitions here early this month. Yesterday she announced she had joined the growing group of east European athletes who have decided not to return to their Communist-dominated countries.

Aja said her decision had been influenced neither by her parents in Prague nor by any English friends.

"First I wanted to become of age, which is 18 years in my country," she explained. "At 18 a girl is supposed to have a mind of her own. That was last May."

"Then I thought I would wait until after the world competitions here. Now it's settled."

Presently living with her coach, Arnold Gerschewitz, and his wife here, Aja plans a series of exhibitions in England. She said she would like to visit America but hasn't made any such plans yet.

'Tarzan' Creator Dies in California

Ohio Man Arrested

George Miller, 89, who gave his address as 5 Bartley street, Ellenville, was arrested at the court house here Saturday on a warrant from Ashland county, Ohio, charging non-support. He was met here Sunday by Sheriff M. F. Rickenbrod of Ashland county, who escorted him back. Miller had just completed a five-day sentence on a public intoxication charge for which he was arrested by Ellenville police on March 13.

Enclino, Calif., March 20 (AP)—Edgar Rice Burroughs, who dug a literary gold mine in the African jungle with Tarzan, is dead.

Burroughs, author, died yesterday, but the ape-man he created will live on to delight other generations of youngsters the world over.

Fifteen novels were awaiting publication when Burroughs died of a heart attack in bed yesterday morning. A movie producer said he had contracted to make 15 more Tarzan films. A tradition

Kingston Concern Gets Contract for Woodstock School

Woodstock, March 20.—During the meeting of the Board of Trustees for the Woodstock School District No. 2, Saturday afternoon, attended by Clark Nether, L. B. Stowell, Adolph Heckerroth, John Egan, attorney, Albert Graesser, architect, and Walter Van Wageningen, school principal, a resolution was adopted stating that the district would sell serial bonds not to exceed $225,000, over a 30 year period.

Contracts for the new school were awarded to the following companies: DeLuca Construction Company, of Glenbrook, Conn., general contract, $148,175; Lechard Company of Clifton, N. J., heating and ventilating, $28,383; C. Strain & Son, Poughkeepsie, plumbing, $16,812; C. Krushner, Kingston, electricity, $12,037. The total contract amounts to $205,497.

These contractors have been notified to come to Woodstock to see and execute the same. Architect Albert Graesser was directed to give proceed orders by which the contractors will go to work, the general contractor to begin about April 1.

A special school meeting will be held Saturday, April 8, for the purpose of authorizing the bond issue.

Loft Players Give

Two Shows Saturday

Woodstock, March 20.—In celebration of International Theatre Month, the Loft Players, a newly formed group, presented two plays of international significance at the Woodstock Art Gallery Saturday night. Sponsored by the U. S. National Commission for U.N.E.S.C.O. and the American National Theatre and Academy, the players won enthusiastic applause for their skillful presentation of "Aria de Capa" a harlequinade by Edna St. Vincent Millay, and "The Beggar's Opera" by John Gay, an erotic harlequinade in four scenes by Federico Garcia Lorca.

In the cast of the Millay play were Emilie Stevens, formerly of Woodstock; Martin Scanlon, Ives Ridley, Lee Frederic and Lois Kleinman. With unusual costumes and cleverly devised props and scenery, the group, with the assistance of Edward Mann, also a former Woodstocker, Ida Mary Costello and Ed Greenberg, ably presented the Millay harlequinade caricaturing the futile devices of men seeking to destroy each other for gain while Columbine and Pierrot live and laugh and life goes on.

In the tragic "Don Perlimpin and Belissa" Jason Wingrave was excellent as the aging Spanish nobleman and Allen Cramer, well-known to Woodstock audiences, played the family servant with dignity and power. Miriam Green was a fiery and petulant Belissa while Lois Kleinman was a devoted Spanish matron.

This group of young people who are endeavoring to work towards establishing a repertory company have ambitious plans for adding other plays to the two productions presented here. On Saturday, March 25, they will give these two plays at Masters Institute, 210 Riverside Drive, New York. They hope to return to Woodstock in the near future.

Woodstock Fives Cop

Double Win Saturday

Woodstock, March 20.—Woodstock defeated High Falls Saturday night at High Falls by 54 to 50. Wilson made 12 points in the first half of the game but was held to three points in the second half. Klein scored six points in the first half and made 13 in the second half, all push-ups on the foul line. Harder clinched the game in the last 20 seconds while Woodstock, stalling for time, sneaked under the basket and on a long pass from Klein laid up an easy shot. Holdridge and Harder played well on defense and prevented Williams from laying up too many shots.

Jayvees Win

The Woodstock Jayvees also triumphed over the High Falls Jayvees by 40 to 37. One minute from the end of the game High Falls was 1 point ahead. Carl Van Wageningen, on a pass from Paul Wagnen, laid up a short shot. Then F. Van Wageningen intercepted it out of bounds pass and laid in a hook shot to win by three points.

Couples Exhibit New

Paintings at Show

Woodstock, March 20.—Woodstock is singularly blessed with more than its share of distinguished couples who have achieved national recognition in the field of painting. A highly representative group of pictures by some of these outstanding artists is now on exhibit at the S. S. "See Horse" Art Gallery.

An opening reception was given Saturday afternoon. With a well-balanced selection of two pictures by each artist, the exhibition contains still lifes, portraits, studies and landscapes. A certain prevailing harmony would seem to indicate that the paintings and drawings were chosen with care by the artists themselves so that none is overpowering in the small gallery.

Artists exhibiting are: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chavez, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Klitzberg, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Millman, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell R. Robinson.

The exhibition will continue until April 8.

May Transplant Organs

Chicago, March 20.—The possibility of transplanting vital organs from one person to another is under study by research workers at Presbyterian Hospital. An article in the hospital's March Bulletin said transplantation "would make it possible to save or prolong the lives of many individuals afflicted with cancer, kidney disease and other serious ailments."

St. Patrick Night

Show, Dance Draws

500 at St. Mary's

It was a gala night at St. Mary's Hall on the feast of St. Patrick, Friday, March 17, when more than 500 men, women and children crowded the parochial school hall on Broadway and McIntee street to enjoy a show and dance arranged by members of the Holy Name Society.

The entertainment program, highlighted by the appearance of a New York city theatrical star, John Brophy, a tenor from the show "As the Girls Go," was lustily applauded as the various performers offered their songs, dances and novelties that pleased the large audience.

After the stage presentations, Marty Kelly's seven-piece orchestra played for dancing, and many remained to enjoy the music of this popular ensemble.

The Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's, thanked the large assemblage for attending the event in honor of St. Patrick, the patron saint of the Irish race, many descendants of whom make up the congregation.

The Rev. Edward Farrelly, a curate of the church, and spiritual director of the Holy Name Society, gave the address of welcome and expressed appreciation for the patronage of the large attendance and the efforts extended by the committee on arrangements.

Soloists, besides John Brophy, were the Glass Twins, Jane and Joan; Angela Weiss, Ted Feeney, Joyce Halloran, Martin Kelly, and Patricia Bruck.

One of the highlights was the appearance of the Oulton brothers, a quartet—Jimmy, Buddy, Andy and Don. These youngsters, coached by their dad, an oldtime showman of local renown, Frank Oulton, sang a repertoire of Irish tunes that were a hit with the patrons and called for several encores.

James Banion Fitzgerald's songs, recitations and dances earned him loud applause. The Cedar Root Band, Jack Carter and Joe Brophy, had a difficult time getting away from the crowd after musical numbers played on a steel guitar and "zing zing," a washbub and hop handle rigged up as a bass fiddle. They sang Irish ditties, too, and the audience called them back several times with applause.

Another popular favorite was McNamara's band, a dance, featuring three little girls, Marian

The Weather

MONDAY, MARCH 20, 1950
Sun rises at 5:48 a. m.; sun sets at 5:57 p. m. E.S.T.
Weather, cloudy.

The Temperature
The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 19 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 40 degrees.

Weather Forecast
New York city and vicinity—

Mostly sunny this morning followed by increasing clouds. High today in mid-40s. Clouds tonight followed by rain. Tuesday cloudy with occasional rain. Low tonight 35 to 38. High Tuesday 45 to 50.

Eastern New York—Fair with rising temperatures today. Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight, lowest in middle 20s. Tuesday cloudy, some rain or snow likely.

Will Give Report
New York, March 20 (AP)—New York city's official "rainmaker," Dr. Wallace L. Howell of Harvard, is to report today to Water Commissioner Stephen J. Carney on his two-day survey of part of New York's watersheds.

The automobile and trucking top took the Harvard scientist through the inter-lakes of Ulster, Greene and Delaware counties. Howell says he is not altogether satisfied with any of four sites he has inspected so far as possible headquarters for rain making operation. Further search will be made, he said, on Friday and Saturday. Howell and city water engineers visited Overlook Mountain near Woodstock, Slide Mountain in western Delaware county, Balsam Mountain in Ulster county and Camp Davidson near Hunter in Greene county.

MAY FACE TRIAL—Vladimir Clementis, above, whose "resignation" as Czechoslovak foreign minister was announced in Prague, may soon face trial in a great new Communist Party purge in Eastern Europe, diplomatic sources say. Clementis' departure leaves the Czech government almost entirely in the hands of "Moscow-minded" Communists.

Girl Kills Sister . . .

a. m. Sally went to sleep. Alice lay awake brooding.

She arose, went through the darkened house, groped until she found the rifle and cartridges—and shot Sally.

Then she telephoned the sheriff's office.

"Come to 4721 Harvey avenue, there's been a murder."

That awakened her mother, who grabbed the phone and said, "Don't be too hasty. She's having a nightmare."

Alice led her mother to Sally's body.

The horrified mother called officers right back: "It's true."

Ripperdan, stressing this was only his opinion, said: "Sally was a boisterous, jolly-go-lucky kind of a girl. Alice is a more older-like acting girl, talks very bright but moody. The deceased got more attention than the defendant."

Clinics Announced For Immunization In Accord Section

An immunization program for every infant and pre-school child in the Town of Rochester is being conducted under the chairmanship of Mrs. Donald L. Schoonmaker of Accord. The program is in line with the Public Health Clinic's aim to have 75 per cent of all pre-school children receive immunization against tetanus, whooping cough, diphtheria and small pox.

Due to the large number of children in the township, a special immunization clinic will be held March 28 at the Accord School from 2 to 3 p. m. with follow-up clinics April 25 and May 23 under the direction of Dr. Rachel Halloway.

All parents of pre-school age children who have incomplete immunizations are requested to return to their family physicians for the necessary inoculations or attend the above mentioned clinics. For which appointment cards will be mailed.

Mrs. Schoonmaker has pointed out that the percentage in the township reached a high of 55 during last year's survey. With the influx of new families and birth of new children to the residing families the percentage dropped to 45.

In connection with the immunization project, a silver tea will be held April 12 at 8 p. m. at Accord at which time an appropriate film concerning communicable diseases will be shown and a proper program arranged in observance of Public Health Nursing Week.

That awakened her mother, who grabbed the phone and said, "Don't be too hasty. She's having a nightmare."

The family denied "one twin had been favored over the other." Eymann said they told him the girls had "disagreements but no more so than most sisters their age."

Flower Show Opens

New York, March 20 (AP)—The air smelled of damp rich earth and wet flowers in Grand Central Palace for today's opening of the 34th International Flower Show—four acres of summertime bloom. Theme of the big show—which runs through March 25—is small home plantings. And most of the exhibits combined flowers, shrubs and trees in arrangements suitable for home grounds.

The Horticultural Society of New York, which with the New York Florists Club jointly sponsors the show, celebrates its 50th anniversary with a special exhibit.

B-29s Go to Britain

Washington, March 20 (AP)—The first batch of about 75 American B-29s takes off for Britain today under the $1,000,000 arms aid program—strengthening Western Europe's defenses. Four of the conditioned bombers, manned by American crews, left nearby Andrews Field this afternoon bound for a British airbase. The seven-year-old planes, once the heaviest the American Air Force could send aloft, now are classed as "medium bombers." The giant B-36 is alone in the heavy bomber class now.

Eyes Senate Bid

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board was reported today to be eyeing his chances of getting the Republican Senatorial nomination in Utah. Friends said Eccles has given serious consideration to the idea of becoming a candidate in a state where Democratic Senator Elbert Thomas, a strong administration supporter, is seeking re-election.

May Revive Policy

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Administration leaders were reported making strong efforts today to revive the bipartisan foreign policy. It has been sagging in the continued absence from Congress of Senator Vandenberg. Recovering from a lung operation last fall, the Michigan Republican has been ill and unable to attend any Senate sessions since February 2.

disregard for the interests of our country." In effect he accused McCarthy of making his charges for political reasons.

If the United States and other free western nations are to succeed in a world struggle with "a diabolically clever and well-organized Communist organization which is seeking to destroy our democracy," Jessup said, "we must forego all partisanship and political adventures."

Jessup's attack on McCarthy was the second made by a major State Department figure. Deputy Undersecretary John E. Peurifoy lashed back at the Senator with a counter attack last week. McCarthy on his part has kept up a constant fire at the department, and only yesterday called for the ouster of Secretary of State Acheson along with what he called "the whole ring of untouchables" in the department.

New Housing Test

Washington, March 20 (AP)—President Truman's $2,000,000,000 Co-op Housing Bill came up today for a new test in Congress, this time in the House. Administration men conceded privately in advance they expect defeat. The Senate rejected the middle-income co-op housing idea last week, on a 43 to 38 vote. A leadership poll of House Democrats indicated doubtful strength there.
